MEMBER OF ALLEGED EXTORTIONIST GANG MUST STAND TRIAL

Three Others Face Charges of Blackmail in London, Ont.—Residents Said to Have Been Muled of Thousands of Dollars—Lawyer Arrested on Four Similar Charges

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP).—Frank Taylor, Sr., sixty-one-year-old contractor of London, was committed for trial today on charges of extortion under threat, and fraud and conversion of money, when he appeared for preliminary hearing. Mrs. Mae Turnbull, Frank Taylor, Jr., and his wife, Rosa, also face charges of attempted extortion under threat.

The arrest followed investigation by police of what they declared was a province-wide blackmail ring. A number of London residents have placed information in the hands of Crown Attorney Norman F. Newton regarding blackmail threats.

MULCTED OF BIG SUMS

Four witnesses were examined at the hearing of Frank Taylor, Sr., today, including the informant, known only as "Mr. A." Others were the bank manager, where it was alleged that an agreement was drawn up between "Mr. A." and Taylor. Detective Gavin Monahan and Inspector Thomas Cousins, of the Provincial Police, who has been inquiring into the blackmail ring, said to have mulcted London residents of thousands of dollars.

Taylor was charged with threatening "Mr. A." on or about January 12, 1932, with an indecent assault accusation. It was alleged that his

HEAD OF NRA RESIGNS POST

President Roosevelt Accepts Resignation of General Hugh Johnson

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Sept. 25 (CP).—General Hugh Johnson tonight tendered his resignation as administrator of the National Recovery Act. It was accepted by President Roosevelt, effective October 15.

The resignation came in the form of a letter to the President, and was accepted by Mr. Roosevelt in another letter which complimented General Johnson on his hard work and assured the NRA chieftain of continued friendship.

The recovery leader revealed his reasons in some measure for giving up his job, pointing to pressing private work.

BEING REORGANIZED

Johnson, in his letter, called the President's attention to the fact the NRA was being reorganized and, under the scheduled reorganization setup, he felt his own job was superfluous. He assured Mr. Roosevelt he would have his (Johnson's) continued friendship, and that should he be called on again to serve the new deal he would be ready to do so.

President Roosevelt, in accepting Johnson's resignation, said he felt the NRA had fulfilled its first phase of usefulness, and that the time has come for revision. It was made plain that this reorganization will come perhaps within the next few days.

FIFTEEN HUNTERS STILL ARE LOST

Another Death Charged to Storm in California Mountains—Low Temperatures Prevail

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (AP).—Another death in Winter's advance assault on the Far West, was disclosed today when the frozen body of Henry Pedroni, fifty-six, was found in a snowdrift in the California Coast Range, forty miles southwest of Willows.

The plight of fifteen deer hunters, including three women, reported marooned near Rubicon Springs in the Sierra Nevada, remains uncertain. No word had been heard from Roy Andrus, who set out with a dog team to aid the party.

Low temperatures, prevailing in some sections despite a bright sun, continued as the storm, which had previously taken the life of one man and probably of a woman, cleared away.

AUSTRIAN PRINCE IS SENTENCED TO JAIL

Rainbow Again Finishes Ahead of Endeavour and Wins Yacht Race Series

Big Dominion Refunding Loan to Be Floated Early Next Week

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP).—An Ottawa dispatch to The Globe said today that plans for flotation of a Dominion of Canada refunding loan, totaling $250,000,000 to $300,000,000, are nearing completion and present prospects are that the new securities will go on the market early next week.

"Officially, no details concerning the new loan are available, save that it is to be an exclusively domestic affair and the bonds are to be payable in the lawful money of Canada," said The Globe story. "United States holders of maturing securities will have the privilege of converting if they so desire. The old bonds—an issue made in 1919—paid 5 1/2 per cent interest."

Province Asked to Write Down Debts In B.C. Dyke Areas

Drainage and Development Districts Unite in Common Request That Province, as Chief Creditor, Lift Portion of Load—Report Filed

DEBT adjustment, with the province in the role of creditor, is being currently requested from the Provincial Lands Department by many of the public and semi-public drainage, dyking and development districts in the province, in respect to capital commitments believed in excess of $1,200,000 exclusive of large amounts written off in former years.

WOMAN FAINTS AND SAVES CASH DRAWER

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25 (CP).—Looking down the barrel of a revolver, Mrs. Anna Herzog fainted and thereby saved the cash drawer of the pharmacy in which she worked from a probable looting.

Persistent Gum-Chewer Given Ten Days in Jail

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (CP).—Gum chewing, today, became contempt of court.

In the courtroom was Charles B. Kersten. While attorneys talked, he chewed gum vociferously. Judge Francis B. Allegretti banged his gavel and frowned. Said the judge: "This is no restaurant, stop that chewing."

Kersten chewed on, remarking to the judge: "There's no law against chewing gum."

Sopwith Admits Fair Beating in Deciding Race for America's Cup

NEWPORT, R.I., Sept. 25 (CP).—Rainbow led Endeavour over the finish line today, in a tip-top climax to the America's Cup series for 1934 and thereby successfully completed her defence of the trophy for the New York Yacht Club.

T. O. M. Sopwith, owner and skipper of the Royal Yacht Squadron's challenger, announced shortly after coming ashore that, having been fairly beaten in a race in which he had won the start, he had decided to withdraw his protest, signalled, he added, for a similar breach of the rule that he believed Rainbow committed on Saturday.

He further announced that he would not challenge again.

Today's contest was a repetition of the preceding three. A faster boat was beaten by a definitely slower boat expertly handled.

POACHERS STOP AT SIXTH SHOT

Purse Seiner Arrested in Strait After Chase of Three Miles

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Sept. 25 (AP).—A three-mile chase during which six shots were fired, ended last night with the capture in the Strait of Juan de Fuca of the purse seiner Lemes, of Seattle, by States Fisheries Inspector E. M. Benn.

Capt. Penn Barrow, Jr., and the six members of the crew were arrested, to face charges of sealing salmon in the mouth of the Pysh River, in violation of the law prohibiting commercial fishing within three miles of the river mouth.

The inspector also seized the seine, which he said the Lemes had abandoned when he approached in an outboard motor boat.

Four warning shots were fired and then two directly at the boat. Benn said, before they dove to. One of the latter shots apparently knocked a hat off the head of a member of the crew, he said.

Last week, Hans Sternbeck, a "tip-off" man who had operated from shore and signalled purse seiners when fisheries officers were nearby, was arrested and pleaded guilty to the charges.

Flag of Distress Goes Unheeded While Man Dies

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—A white distress flag hanging from the front door of his lonely cabin at the south end of Cortez Island failed to attract aid for George Reanson, aged fifty-five, when Game Warden Roy E. Allen, of Powell River, visited Reanson's cabin, September 21, he saw the signal on the door and found the owner lying face down on the floor. He had been dead more than a month from natural causes.

Two Boats Unreported After Gale

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—Provincial police tonight wireless to boats in the vicinity of the mouth of Howe Sound to be on the look-out for two gasboats with nine Vancouver people on board, overdue here since Sunday last.

The gasboats, the Lolo O., with Chris Olsen and his family aboard, and another twenty-seven-foot craft, with Mike Nelson and his family, left here last Thursday for Gambier Island, about six miles up the Sound. The boats were supposed to return here Sunday.

Police believe that because of the storm which swept the Sound Saturday and Sunday, the two parties may have decided to stay at Gambier Island until the gale had subsided, and thus delayed their return.

SECRET PANEL ADDS TO CLUES

Discovery Made in Hauptmann's Home Strengthens Suspicion of His Guilt

(Copyright 1934, by the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—The telephone number and address of "Jafie"—Dr. John P. Condon, ransom intermediary in the kidnapping of baby Charles A. Lindbergh—were found today on a cleverly built secret closet panel in the Bronx home of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

A second board, on which were written figures that officials believed to be serial numbers of the ransom currency, also was found.

CACHE OF EXPLOSIVES DISCOVERED IN SPAIN

Curse Recalled as Head of Beresford Family Found Shot

Seventh Marquess of Waterford Dead From Accidental Discharge of Gun, in Ancestral Seat at Portlaw—Tragedy List Long

DUBLIN, Sept. 25 (CP).—Another tragic chapter was written today in the "curse-ridden" history of the ancient Beresford family, when the young seventh Marquess of Waterford was found shot dead in the ancestral home at Portlaw, County Waterford.

A verdict of accidental death was returned, the coroner's jury inclining to the belief that accidental discharge of a sporting gun caused the death of the son of one of Ireland's oldest lines. But the tenants said with conviction that the family curse was responsible.

John Charles de la Poer Beresford, the seventh marquess, was only thirty-three years of age. He married four years ago and was violently, three other members of

Business Leaders Appoint Executive as Working Committee—Advisory Board of Thirty to Devise Schemes for Building Up Trade—Excursions From Prairies Announced

ENTHUSIASTIC endorsement was given Mayor David Leeming's scheme for the development of Victoria's tourist industry by a large and representative gathering of businessmen and heavy taxpayers at a special meeting held in the Empress Hotel, last night, for the purpose of devising ways and means of bringing the city out of its present financial dilemma.

WILL INVITE TRADE TALKS

Hon. K. C. MacDonald Suggests Conference Between Western Provinces

Round-table discussion by the Departments of Agriculture of the three Western Provinces to assist development of inter-provincial trade for mutual benefits will be invited shortly, it was announced yesterday by Hon. K. C. MacDonald, British Columbia Minister of Agriculture.

First, however, British Columbia wants to clear its own decks in regard to domestic and foreign markets.

Dr. MacDonald pointed out that British Columbia does a steady business with Alberta and Saskatchewan in business flowing in two directions. Livestock, feed, poultry, dairy produce and other products are brought in from the Prairie Provinces.

It is to co-ordinate efforts to make the most of this trade, and to see that the exchange of goods is conducted to the satisfaction of all parties that Dr. MacDonald has in mind proposals for a conference on at least agricultural products shortly. It may be some weeks before this Province is ready to open up the subject, but meanwhile data is to be gathered on inter-provincial movements of goods.

There is another reason making for closer working co-operation between the provinces, and that is development of marketing schemes on goods that cross provincial boundaries. Attempted regulation of domestic marketing, it is foreseen, will be futile, without a working arrangement with areas shipping goods in from outside.

SIX NATIONS TO STAND PAT ON STANDARD

GENEVA, Sept. 25 (AP).—Six European nations still backing their currency with gold tonight were pledged to stand pat on the gold standard for "the economic and financial restoration of the world."

Belgium, France, Holland, Italy, Switzerland and Luxembourg joined in the assertion that "the maintenance of the present parties appears to us to be one of the essential conditions" of that restoration.

BAPTIST LEADER DIES

SAW THREE FIRES ON MORRO CASTLE

NIGHT Watchman Says Blazes Begun Almost Simultaneously—Chemicals Were Cause

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—The Morro Castle was destroyed by three separate fires, beginning almost simultaneously, Arthur J. Fender, night watchman on duty when the flames were discovered, told the United States Department of Commerce investigation board today.

Furthermore, he continued, he was convinced the flames he saw first came from burning chemicals. They looked like such flames, and he smelled odors which he variously described as like benzene or naphtha and burning gas.

In addition, he told of an explosion "loud" and "intense" which followed shortly after the heat from the blazing lounge had driven him and other fire-fighters away.

WILL PROTEST RATES ON FEED

Railway Commission to Hear Objections of B.C.
Government

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP).—Domestic freight rates on feed grains and mill feeds moving from the Prairies west, will be the subject of protest before the Railway Commission tomorrow.

Thomas Reid, member for New Westminster, B.C., and A. L. Chard, of Edmonton, representing the Governments of British Columbia and Alberta, respectively, will apply to the board for a reduction in these rates to the export rate level. The application will, it is understood, be opposed by both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railway Companies.

INTERESTS POULTRYMEN

The case of particular interest to poultrymen and dairymen of British Columbia who use feed grains and mill feeds on their farms for feeding purposes. In addition to representing the British Columbia Government, Mr. Reid will appear for the Fraser Valley Co-Operative Association.

The Eastern dairy farmer and poultryman, it is claimed, receives the benefit of Crow's Nest rates from the Prairies to Fort William. On the other hand, it is argued, men engaged in similar activities in British Columbia are required to pay domestic rates considerably in excess of the export rate.

charged with a fourth offense, and will appear before Magistrate T. W. Beaudet, tomorrow. He was released on bail, but tonight was arrested again on a warrant issued by Chief of Police Harry Down on behalf of a man described as "Mr. E."

The fourth charge, it was learned, involved an alleged statement by Foley that he was able to keep the name of "Mr. E." out of a certain Toronto weekly publication. Police, who did not divulge why the name of "Mr. E." was to have appeared in the publication, said the amount involved was about $1,500.

TOURIST PROJECT STRONGLY BACKED

thusiasm prevalent at the meeting, which ended with a motion, unanimously passed, endorsing the Mayor's scheme, and thanking him for his interest in the matter.

The Mayor, in his opening remarks, said he had occupied the majority position for nearly three years, and latterly had heard much of the increase in business in the East. None of it was being felt here, and he said, the city was confronted with the question of whether it wanted to expand its tourist business. He felt that, if the matter was properly approached, the industry could be made to show an increase from 200 to 300 per cent. In increasing the tourist traffic was Victoria's only salvation, he declared.

NEED DEVELOPMENT

Reviewing the city's financial position, the Mayor pointed out that no longer could the city carry its burden without either a new system of taxation or a development of business.

"We have got to be dependent upon ourselves. When I first came to Victoria it was the headquarters for the sailing fleet, the British Navy, with five battleships stationed here; the army; the Canadian Pacific, and other transportation organizations. Victoria was the shipping point for wholesalers all over the province, and even parts of the Prairies. Due to economic conditions, which we had no control, that business has gradually been lost to Vancouver and Seattle," the Mayor said.

"Latterly, we have seen the decline of the lumber industry. Our largest mill has been closed for four years, and there is little prospect of its opening up. That mill employed 500 men. I see that our assessment figures show a decrease in the value of property of $6,200,000 over the past three years. We have to keep these things in mind when we consider whether we want to develop the tourist trade," he stated.

EXTEND VISITS

"We have been carrying on a publicity programme, which, plus good transportation, has done much to bring thousands of tourists to our city. However, in the past we have advertised merely our natural beauties. But others have equally as beautiful scenery. The whole Northwest abounds in scenic spots. If we are to develop the tourist trade, we have to offer the visitors something more. We must entertain them. Make the city itself attractive as a holiday resort and playground. Extend the period of tourists' visits, thereby increasing the amount of money they spend here."

"I firmly believe that the industry can be increased seven times its present volume. In 1929, tourists spent $3,500,000 in this city. It is my considered opinion that we have only touched the edge of this great industry."

"I have invited you here tonight to get your opinions and to ascertain if you are prepared to en-

SEATTLE, Sept. 25 (AP).—Mercilessly battered about in a light sedan when it plunged down a 250-foot embankment and crashed on a beach in West Seattle, Mrs. Lela Conley English, thirty, whose parents live in Fort Worth, Texas, and Olaf Anker Olson, thirty-four, Seattle, were fatally injured today.

Mrs. English, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie J. Conley, of Fort Worth, died three hours after the accident, and Olson died tonight. The crash occurred shortly after midnight.

keep the meeting going for days. He wanted to know whether the business men were behind the scheme to develop the tourist business on a grander scale, and, if they were, to appoint the necessary committees to get action.

Money is needed. R. H. B. Ker, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Publicity Bureau, said that the tourist trade could not be expanded without money, and that it was essential that a small working committee be formed, and an advisory body set up to devise ways and means of developing the tourist trade. "It is our only salvation," he asserted.

It was then that the motion was passed that the Mayor be asked to appoint an executive of five, which has already been named. The meeting also endorsed the motion that the executive appoint an advisory board of thirty business leaders representing every enterprise in the city. These resolutions were followed by the resolution of endorsement of the entire scheme, and the hearty expressions of appreciation for the Mayor's efforts in this direction.

SEALING BLOWN OFF MINE SHAFT

One More Victim Added to Heavy
Toll of Life at Gresford Colliery

WREXHAM, Wales, Sept. 25 (CP).—Another big explosion in the Gresford Colliery today blew off the sealing that had been done yesterday and caused another death, bringing to 262 the total taken in the fire and explosions since Saturday.

The shaft had been sealed with nearly all the bodies inside, but fire and gas burst through the sealed ventilating shaft this evening. George Brown, of Rhosyllen, member of the skeleton staff on the premises, was hurled twenty yards and fatally injured.

Meanwhile, 2,500 men have been thrown out of work, either directly or indirectly. Seven hundred children are fatherless.

SECRET PANEL ADDS TO CLUES

"When I said we had an iron-bound case," the district attorney asserted, "I meant it, but it depended on a lot of evidence."

Today, however, Inspector Bruckman brought from the home of the defendant the boards taken from inside a closet. The case is now completely broken.

"One of the boards had been smudged and partially obliterated, but we could make out the pencilled address, 2974 Decatur Avenue, and a phone number, Sedgwick 3-8714. That was Condon's phone number at the time of the negotiations."

CHECKING NUMBERS

"There also was written on a board in the closet the serial numbers of certain bills. These numbers are now being checked. One of them, and possibly all, we believe will turn out to be numbers of the Lindbergh bills. This board could be inserted or removed at will."

The chain of circumstances which authorities hope will link Hauptmann to the abduction, as well as to the $50,000 ransom extortion, was further strengthened by two other major developments:

1. Disclosure by Department of Justice agents that the footprints of the one-time machine-gunner in the German army are similar to those found in the earth about the Hopewell, N.J., home of the Lindberghs.

2. Discovery in the garage of Hauptmann's home of nails similar in size and markings to those used in construction of the ladder, up which the kidnapper climbed the night of March 1, 1934, to steal the famous baby from his crib.

As the minute search of the Hauptmann home brought forth the new evidence—District Attorney Foley, of the Bronx, conducted another line of witnesses before the grand jury, seeking a quick indictment of the former carpenter on the extortion charges. At mid-afternoon, the grand jury was adjourned to await the appearance of Colonel Lindbergh.

LINDERBERGH ARRIVE

The flying colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh arrived by plane at Trenton, N.J., this evening, and immediately went into seclusion without discussing their plans. In anticipation of Lindbergh's appearance at the Bronx County Courthouse tomorrow, 232 policemen were assigned to protect him from curious throngs. It was learned from a high Jersey official that two new witnesses have entered the case there. This official said one of the witnesses had expressed a belief that Hauptmann's pictures looked like a man he saw in a lane near the Lindbergh estate the morning before the kidnapping. The other witness told of seeing a person resembling Hauptmann in nearby Hopewell at about that time.

Brown, "I was not at all up to the mark last night—tried to say something agreeable, but couldn't do it somehow; so at last I bade them good-bye." Jones: "Ah, then you did manage to say something agreeable after all!"

B.C. GUARANTEE

While there was no major general readjustment since 1905, individual adjustments were made by the Province. One was in Dewdney, which carried a lawsuit to the Privy Council with unfortunate results to itself. Another was West Nicomen, where the dykes broke, and the Province guaranteed a new issue to retire the original debt.

Reclamation of 12,000 acres of lake bottom at Sumas and drainage of 16,000 acres of marginal lands around the lake, at an initial cost of $3,000,000, became part of the picture. Capital sums on this scheme were written down several times, and removed entirely from bottom lands. There were other schemes, some of private origin, but several ending up in the Provincially-assisted column.

CONSIDERABLE AMOUNTS

It is not, of course, known what the precise position of drainage and dyking areas is today. It is unofficially believed, however, that capital sums between $1,000,000 and $1,250,000 may be involved in representations made to the Province by the districts concerned. Approximately $300,000 is understood to be involved in schemes directly under Provincial control, with considerably more in respect to schemes partly indebted to the Province and partly to private investors.

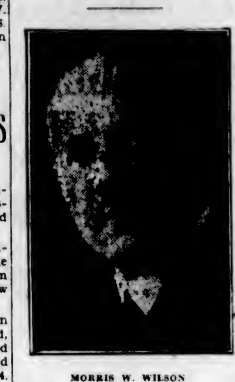

Members of the Government declined to forecast what the official attitude will be on the requests, for revision of these schemes and for reduction of indebtedness on sums owed to the Province. The report of the commission, it was intimated, will be very carefully studied before any decision is reached.

FAMOUS ORGANIST DEAD

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25 (AP).—Edwin Henry Lemare, sixty-nine, world-famous organist and author of more than 200 compositions, including "Moonlight" and "Roses," died last night at his home. Born in Ventnor, Isle of Wight, he made his first tour of the United States in 1901, and later became organist and director of music at the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh.

ROYAL BANK PARTY HERE

Morris W. Wilson Gives Views on Central Bank of Canada

MORRIS W. WILSON

Creation of the Central Bank of Canada will have no effect upon the organization of Canadian chartered banks, and there will be no reductions in staffs, Morris W. Wilson, Montreal, vice-president and general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, stated in an interview at the Empress Hotel, last night. Mr. Wilson further added the establishment of a central bank will have little or no effect on the average man other than changing the make-up of the one dollar and two dollar bills he happens to have in his pockets.

The general manager, on arrival here from Nanaimo, yesterday afternoon, was accompanied by A. E. Dymont, chairman of the Canadian General Electric Company, Toronto; William F. Angus, president of the Canadian Car & Foundry Company, Montreal; Paul F. Sise, president of the Northern Electric Company, Montreal; W. H. McWilliams, president of the Canadian Consolidated Grain Company, Winnipeg, and Robert Adair, president of the Hart & Adair Coal Company, Ltd., Montreal, and W. H. Malkin, former Mayor of Vancouver, all directors of the Royal Bank of Canada, and Robert H. Baird, Royal Bank Inspector for British Columbia.

GRAHAM F. TOWERS

"A modern and necessary adjunct to the Canadian banking system," was Mr. Wilson's reply when questioned regarding the establishment of the new bank. Central banks are nothing new, the visiting official explained, saying that such institutions have operated in most countries of the world for years. The Central Bank of Canada will not compete with chartered banks in so far as taking deposits from the public or making loans, but will handle the Dominion's banking and public credit, it was pointed out by Mr. Wilson.

Graham F. Towers, recently-appointed governor of the new institution, is the best man in Canada for the position, Mr. Wilson declared with enthusiasm, in continuing his remarks on banking. Although only thirty-seven years of age, Mr. Towers has had a sound banking training and an excellent grounding in economics and foreign exchange, he added.

"Don't let his age fool you, for he has the judgment of a man ten years his senior," Mr. Wilson said. The new governor was assistant to Mr. Wilson at the time of his appointment to the Central Bank, and according to the visiting official, Mr. Towers has the absolute confidence of all chartered banks, and is assured of their co-operation.

CONDITIONS BETTER

After a survey from East to West, Mr. Wilson finds conditions considerably improved. Both he and the members of his party were pleased with their findings which, they declared, were "stimulating."

Business in the East is better, but there is nothing startling in recovery, Mr. Wilson went on to say. He explained the feeling in that part of the country is good and the people optimistic. At this point in the interview the visitor expressed his praise of the people of Canada for maintaining their morale during the depression years. Not every nation was able to do this, he added.

With the exception of Saskatchewan, the Prairie Provinces are enjoying somewhat improved times, and look for good returns on wheat sales this fall.

The visiting party will leave the city at the end of the week. While in Victoria, the directors will visit some of the Royal Bank of Canada branches here.

economy...

Cheap tea is always false economy, for the little saved on the purchase price is speedily lost on the cup count.

Selected, graded and priced by famous Mincing Lane tea experts, better tea always gives more cups as well as more and finer flavour, more energy, more refreshment, more enjoyment.

To sell tea for less than the standard price of the reputable brands, the pack must include less better tea in its blend, and therefore gives less value.

Better tea, Empire-grown for the Empire's homes and priced within everyone's reach, is the only tea bargain.

Community Centres Asked for Seriously Disabled Veterans

Army and Navy Veterans Offer Plan at Vancouver Convention — Will Continue to Press for Preference in Employment

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—Establishment of community centres for seriously disabled war veterans so they might grow crops and conduct small industries was recommended today by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada in annual convention here. The Dominion executive was instructed to investigate the proposal and bring in a report.

The plan is designed to apply to men whose injuries are so serious that they are unfitted for ordinary occupations. If the recommendation was accepted by the Dominion

PENSIONS AND WAGES

Reductions in wages of pensioners on account of the pension received was protested in a resolution passed unanimously. It was stated that, in the 1933 Dominion budget, proposals were made for deducting pension payments from Federal salaries, and delegates insisted that "the Minister of Pensions and National Health by request to see to it that the law as now existing in this regard be rigidly adhered to."

A further resolution, brought in by a Manitoba delegate, suggested that all unemployed ex-service men, whether pensioners or not, come under the Department of Pensions and National Health for the purposes of relief.

HONORABLE DISCHARGE

An interesting resolution passed by the convention recommended that the "United States Government be approached (through the Canadian Government) with a view to securing honorable discharge for those members of the United States forces who deserted therefrom in order to enlist in other allied forces."

Delegates continued to press for recognition of a "preferred position" for ex-servicemen in employment, relief and other matters when they passed a motion authorizing establishment of an employment service in all units and branches in Canada to aid veterans to obtain priority in Government and other positions and in relief.

Repercussions of recent alleged dismal in the Ontario Government service were heard in a resolution, which protested "very strongly against this injustice and procedure of the Government."

Last among the important resolutions was a recommendation that the age limit for eligibility under the Veterans' Allowance Act be reduced from sixty to fifty years. The principle of continuing aid to children where a pensioner is separated from his wife was endorsed.

The delegates were guests this evening of the New Westminster unit at dinner and a smoker.

REQUEST EARLY PARTY MEETING

Ward Four Body Renews Demand for Conservative Convention

Renewed demands for a convention of the Conservative Party in British Columbia, this Fall, to elect a leader, and a second convention to formulate and adopt a provincial platform, were heard at the annual meeting of the Ward Four Conservative Association, held in the Campbell Building here, last night.

D. B. Plunkett, Federal member for Victoria, gave his support to the proposal and intimated that the situation in the Provincial Party should be remedied as early as possible.

"In spite of the fact that Hon. Dr. Tolmie chose to form a new party at the last Provincial election, he is still actually our leader. It is a position that is unfair to Dr. Tolmie and unfair to our organization," Mr. Plunkett declared.

REUNITE PARTY

Another matter that was broached at the meeting was the position of those Conservatives who joined with the Unionist endeavor. It was intimated that an invitation should be extended to them to return to the association in Victoria, and the suggestion was heartily approved by the members, but no formal resolution was presented.

The meeting was mainly for the election of officers for the coming year, and the following were re-elected: A. S. Lock, chairman; and Lincoln Smith, J. Bothwell, J. Lowther and Mrs. W. C. Moresey, representatives on the central executive. Richard Day was chosen as secretary in the place of A. S. Lock. Resolutions of confidence in Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Mr. Plunkett were approved by the members.

Following the business session, Mr. Plunkett gave a brief talk on Federal matters, referring to the new Marine Building to be erected here; Central Banking and Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and Empire agreements.

EMPIRE AGREEMENTS

Mr. Plunkett declared, in one part of his address, that the leader of the Federal Opposition sought to break agreements made with other parts of the Empire in favor of an agreement with the United States. Opening up trade agreements with the United States, he said, would mean the exclusion of Empire products, and he asked what had been the experience of the past in connection with trade agreements made with the neighboring country.

Mr. Plunkett fully supported the efforts of Hon. H. H. Stevens and his committee concerning the investigation of business and industry in the Dominion. "When Mr. King says that the operations of the committee are humbug, he is simply trying to deceive the people of Canada," Mr. Plunkett stated.

Hugh Allan, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, also addressed the meeting on organization, and presided for the election of officers.

CONDITIONS ARE MUCH IMPROVED

Frank Anders, Speaking Before Kiwanis Club, Says B.C. Is Regaining Stability

Frank Anders, representing the Home Oil Company who was a guest artist of the Gyro Club yesterday at the luncheon meeting, in a short address, gave the information that a decided change has taken place in the province which is plainly noticeable in the travels he and the musical Home Gas Optimists make throughout British Columbia.

Just returning from the Okanagan, he said the feeling in that part of the province was very radically changed. The grocers were getting better prices for their fruit and had a good crop. In Alberni, there was a veritable boom. Throughout the whole country people were in a very hopeful spirit, said the speaker.

Mr. Anders praised the good work that he found the Kiwanis clubs were doing to help those who needed assistance. In the matter of assisting boys in need to better things, this praiseworthy action was most noticeable.

Following the address, the Optimists provided a programme for the entertainment of the club. This included songs by Ernest Colton, with Jerry Hughes as accompanist. The latter also gave a selection from his own composition on the piano. "Sonny" Richardson and Jack Emerson, violinists, appeared in several numbers, while Isabel Haight and Kenny Haight gave fancy dancing exhibitions.

Accompanying the party was Cal Winter, orchestra leader.

BRINGS SUIT ON WHISKY SALES

Claim Made for Commission on Liquor Sold During Prohibition

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—Trial of an action to recover $2,250 from the Pacific Forwarding Company of Seattle, and Harry Reifel, millionaire Vancouver brewer and distiller and alleged head of the Seattle company, was adjourned in Supreme Court today until tomorrow. Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald is presiding.

The action was brought by Harry Sokol, who claims the amount is due him on commissions from the sale of whisky in the United States during prohibition and also for traveling expenses incurred in connection with the liquor sales.

Len Milne, former president of the Pacific Forwarding Company and now an independent liquor dealer in Seattle, and Sokol, were the principal witnesses this afternoon.

The suit is an outgrowth of the sale of 525 cases of Bourbon whisky to Sam Eastman of St. Louis, which Eastman returned to the Pacific Forwarding Company alleging the liquor was unfit for consumption.

Proceedings were featured by the exhibit of a receipt which Sokol claimed had been raised after he had signed it, for $360 expense money, and also by statements of freight billings in which liquor shipments were shown as having been billed under machinery and other forms of merchandise.

Sokol stated he made an agreement with Reifel in 1932 in which they were to split the profits on the liquor which Sokol sold. This amounted to about $20 per case, Sokol declared, of which he received $10.

After concluding the deal with Eastman, Sokol said he came back here where he received a long distance call from Eastman who claimed the liquor was musty and unfit for consumption.

TO MAKE IT GOOD

Sokol said he told Harry Reifel about Eastman's complaint and that Reifel promised to replace the liquor or refund Eastman's money. Eastman released the liquor to the Pacific Forwarding Company after Reifel had guaranteed to make it good, Sokol stated.

The Pacific Forwarding Company was ordered by Reifel to sell the returned liquor at any price possible, Sokol said.

When Sokol arrived in Seattle he said there was $1,000 owing for freight. He informed Reifel, who gave him a number to call. Sokol declared he called the number and said: "Harry Reifel said you would give me $1,000 in front of the Olympic Hotel."

A few minutes later Sokol said a car drove up, a man got out and gave him the money.

He had tried unsuccessfully to collect the money he claimed Reifel owed him, Sokol stated.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

ASSESSMENT IS REDUCED THIRD TIME

Total of $1,610,665 Cut From Net Taxable Valuation of 1934 Roll

TAX EXEMPTIONS UP; IMPROVEMENTS DOWN

For the third year in succession, Victoria assessments have been reduced, the 1935 assessment roll, made public yesterday by George Okell, city assessor, revealing a total reduction of $1,610,665 from the total net taxable assessment for the current year.

Last year the assessments were given practically a 10 per cent cut, while the year previous to that the improvements were cut considerably. Thus with reductions in the assessment and the mill rate, the burden on the taxpayer is gradually being lightened.

GROSS ASSESSMENTS

Gross assessment on land for 1935 is placed at $27,841,776, a reduction of $266,845 from the 1934 figure. Gross improvements for 1935 are placed at $45,492,405, or $1,210,420 less than the present assessment roll.

The aggregate assessment for 1935 is $73,334,181, while the 1934 aggregate is $74,945,000, a reduction on the gross assessment of $1,610,819. A substantial increase is shown in the value of tax-exempt property. Tax-exempt properties on the 1935 roll are valued at $6,133,880, as compared with $5,958,330 in 1934.

NET VALUATION

Deducting the exemptions from the gross, Mr. Okell shows a net reduction in land assessments of $452,395 between the $22,370,291 net of 1934 and the $21,707,896 net for next year.

Improvement reductions are well over twice the land amount, the total being $1,148,270, the difference between the 1934 net of $32,663,205 and the 1935 net of $31,514,930. On both land and improvements the total net reduction is $1,610,665, the 1934 net total being $54,833,541, against $53,222,876 for 1935.

Based on the current tax rate of forty-one mills, the entire tax levy for 1935 under the reduced assessment would show a drop of approximately $47,200. The cut itself virtually amounts to about a mill and one-sixth on the current levy.

The body was discovered in the gunroom of the family seat, not long after the marquess had returned from an early expedition after rabbits. A sporting gun lay nearby.
Dr. F. N. Walker, the family physician, said that from the position of the wound, it would have been impossible for the marquess to have had his finger on the trigger. The trigger was extremely sensitive and had no guard, and he said the gun had accidentally discharged.
But the story of the curse was immediately revived. The third marquess broke his neck while hunting; the fifth shot himself after long suffering from spinal trouble; the last marquess was drowned twenty years ago. Lord de la Poer Beresford, a close relative, was killed in Texas in a train accident, years ago; Captain de la Poer Beresford was killed by a runaway horse at Aldershot in 1911; Lord Marcus Beresford was found dead in his bed in 1933.

Hurry and worry, over-indulgence in eating or drinking, little or no exercise, all have a bearing on the condition of the breath. Is it any wonder that so many Canadians have halitosis (unpleasant breath)? The insidious thing about it is that you yourself never know when you are guilty of this offense. But you needn't be guilty if you will simply rinse the mouth with Listerine, the quick deodorant. Listerine combats unhealthy mouth conditions and overcomes the odors arising from them. ## TRIUMPH OF SEAMANSHIP

The better seamanship aboard the Rainbow was undoubtedly the factor which enabled Mr. Harold S. Vanderbilt to retain the America's Cup. The Endeavour was the faster boat, as it proved again and again in the series of races, but there were what seemed strange lapses in its handling, and especially in the tactics employed in rounding marks. On a straight course, in both light and heavy winds, the challenger was a trifle faster than the defender. In seamanship, however, the proficiency aboard the Rainbow was, on a number of occasions, superior to that aboard the Endeavour. The fact that Mr. Vanderbilt should have won four of the races in a row is a tribute to his strategy and to the work of his professional crew. He was prompt to take advantage of every shift in the breeze which blew during the contests. It is the man at the wheel who develops the tact and strategy employed during the races. Afloat has been a feature of the behavior of both crews, but the men aboard the defender were speedier in carrying out orders than those on the Endeavour.

The lesson for Britain is that with yachts which are well watched in all other ways it is seamanship that will win. Mr. Sopwith has this consolation that the experiments he made in rig, sails, trim and special equipment have been justified. His vessel in speed is superior to the Rainbow. She was not as well handled, especially in the last four races. The most coveted trophy in the world remains in possession of the United States, and justifiably so, for it was the human element that prevailed. Mr. Vanderbilt deserves every congratulation on his admirable handling of his yacht. Better seamanship, in which professionals beat amateurs, is the story of this year's contest for the Cup.

FIVE BY-ELECTIONS

There can be no denying that at present sentiment in Ontario is Liberal. The results of the five by-elections held on Monday indicate this. The present sentiment had formerly been represented by two Liberals and three Conservatives, and the latter have now lost Frontenac-Addington and North York. The only victory won by the Conservatives was by that veteran parliamentarian, Mr. T. L. Church, but the majority in Toronto East as compared with that registered by the Conservatives in former contests, was small. It would be idle to ignore the significance of the results. Both parties threw all their strength into the campaign preceding the vote. The test was regarded definitely as one of Ontario's attitude in Federal affairs. Mr. Mackenzie King has every reason to be satisfied.

The Conservatives of the Dominion are suffering at present from very poor organization. That handicap has been pronounced in recent Provincial elections. It is evident, too, in Federal by-elections. There is no organizer of the party and wholly inadequate preparations have been made in anticipation of a general election, the claim for the holding of which will become all the more insistent because of the late expression of sentiment in Ontario. Federally and provincially the Conservatives of the Dominion stand in need of a trumpet call to action. To the extent it is postponed, and there is continued delay in a process of intensive organization of the party, the chances of winning the next general election continue to diminish.

LEARNING TO THINK

One of the strongest bulwarks against the disruption and disintegration of society is the school. Those school disciplines which most effectively equip the individual in the moral and intellectual struggle for the maintenance of our civilization are the humanities rather than science; for the obvious reason that the latter deals chiefly with things; whereas man and all his concerns are the subject of the former. In an age like the present, the age of plentiful and cheap reading matter, of free and untrammelled discussion of public questions in periodicals and over the air, of moving and talking picture-shows attended by hundreds of thousands, it is more than ever necessary to the safety of society that young people leaving school should carry with them, developed to the highest degree of which they are capable, the power of judgment, of inference, of reasoning; the critical and logical faculty, in short.

Propaganda is a word commonly used to denote schemes for the propagation of doctrines of various kinds. Agencies are everywhere at work manufacturing for impressionable people—and that term includes a good many young people—every variety of ready-made opinion on all subjects, sport, amusements, dress, health, fashion, society, politics, behaviour, morals, religion. Now, it is precisely in his mental attitudes and reactions towards all this ready-made opinion that the individual exhibits the results of his schooling. Let us hope that during his school-days he has been required to define terms accurately and to use them in the same sense continuously after having defined them, that he has been warned against the dangers of obscure, figurative, and ambiguous language, that he can identify an ambiguous middle term in a weak argument, and that he can readily detect those famous "fallacies of presumption" known to logicians as begging the question, non sequitur, and the irrelevant conclusion. A youth whose equipment includes the foregoing is not likely to be led astray by the voluble spellbinder. On the contrary a reasonably well-equipped school-boy usually finds it no great task to exhibit the logical defects of the average spellbinder's "arguments."

It is true that the words "Formal Logic" are not inscribed in the programmes of study of high schools. However, grammar is taught there, and although it does not bear the name of logic, nevertheless grammar is the legitimate child of logic. Grammar deals with the relations of words, and of course these relations depend upon the relations of thought. Distinctions of thought are naturally recognized and expressed in the grammatical distinctions of the language. What is valuable in a schoolboy's acquirements is not the actual gross amount of knowledge he carries away from school. It is rather the mental habits he has formed, his habits of hard, honest thinking. The question is not how much he has swallowed, but how well he has mastered his mental food. The wholesale propaganda which will assail him in the actual world is intended to be swallowed, not mastered. The teacher who patiently endeavors, through the medium of literature and the severe study of grammar, to indoctrinate his students with the fundamentals of logic, furnishes them with some knowledge of the common logical pitfalls and some skill in detecting the same, will do much to protect them from false social and political doctrine and equip them to assist in the maintenance of a sound social fabric.

AN ECONOMIC DELUSION

Among delusions that have arisen because of depressed economic conditions, with their consequent unemployment, is the one that present ills are due to the rapid advance in scientific knowledge. Sir James Jeans, in his presidential address to the British Association, took an opportunity to allude to this delusion. If it were justified, he said, nothing could be done. The country which called a halt to scientific progress would soon fall behind in every other respect as well—"in its industry, in its economic position, in its naval and military defences, and not least important, in its culture. Those who sigh for an Arcadia in which all machinery would be scrapped and all invention proclaimed a crime, as it was in Erewhon, forget that the Erewhonians had neither to compete with highly organized scientific competitors for the trade of the world, nor to protect themselves against possible bomb-dropping, blockade or invasion."

Sir James believes that the economic tragedy does not lie in man's scientific control over Nature, but in his absence of moral control over himself. Human nature changes very slowly and so forever lags behind human knowledge which accumulates very rapidly. He then said: "Scientific knowledge is transmitted from one generation to another, while acquired characteristics are not. Thus, in respect of knowledge, each generation stands on the shoulders of its predecessor, but in respect of human nature both stand on the same ground." It is the old story of people blaming everything but themselves when their course of life does not run smoothly.

Some indication of what British opinion is regarding the League of Nations and similar international organizations is given in a straw vote taken by a London newspaper in 1933. In this vote 60,195 persons declared they were in favor of Britain isolating herself from all foreign entanglements, treaties and understandings, and refusing to engage her armed forces in any war, "unless our territory or that of the Dominions and possessions is menaced." Probably because of this attitude the vote would be just as overwhelming against the idea of British participation in an international police force such as it is suggested the League of Nations should possess to enforce world peace.

A LITTLE PARABLE

She hid the dark thought far away
Within the closet of her mind;
It never saw the light of day;
By watchfulness confined.

But nights, to demonstrate control
And absolute self-mastery,
She'd often let it loose to stroll
Around, unleashed and free.

Such dangerous dalliance amused
At first—next, terrified her then,
Stronger than she, the thing refused
To be locked up again;

And so, insidiously this thought
Her weakening will crept in its vice
Till, by her self-made demons caught,
She paid their asking price!

—Mae V. Carruthers, in The New York Times.

A face with gladness overspread;
Soft smiles, by human kindness bred;
The greatest happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved, loved for ourselves—say rather, loved in spite of ourselves.—Victor Hugo.

One must upon his bugle horn
Wear a crown of thorns.—Scott.

The processes of business recovery are like the mills of the gods: the wheels revolve slowly, but, when they begin to turn in the right direction, their velocity will increase, and there will not be another crash until some old politician or new economist throws sand into the machinery. It is a dangerous thing to put an inexperienced person in charge of a complicated piece of machinery. A trained locomotive or marine engineer does not pull the throttle wide open immediately he receives the signal to go ahead. He "opens her up" gradually, giving his machine a chance to warm up. The motor car driver who jumps from low to high when his engine is cold shortens the life of his valuable property. Maximum rates of speed in most of the affairs of life and other machinery should be approached gradually, and that is the way of safety.

The wheels of business in Canada and in Great Britain are turning smoothly and are gradually speeding up. The engineers in charge of the machinery seem to be content as they listen to the smooth and sweet hum of their machines as they increase in velocity. But there are inexperienced critics who say the process of recovery is too slow and that it must be speeded up. Put us in charge of the mills, they say, and watch them smoke.

New Deals and daring experiments are being tried in other countries, and there has been plenty of smoke. When there is a great deal of smoke, that is an indication that the smokers do not understand their business, that inexperience is at the throttle and the machinery "running wild."

In the fruitful and sunny state of California Mr. Upton Sinclair, a writer of books which are of no particular literary value, but which seem to be widely read in his own country and this country, has become a candidate for high public position, and has justified his candidature by giving a pledge to the people that if elected he will abolish poverty in the state. The interesting feature in connection with the statement of Mr. Sinclair is not the fact that he is running for public office, but the admission that there is such a thing as poverty in California.

Nature always has been understood to have provided so abundantly for the people of California that it is somewhat of a shock to learn on such qualified authority that the people have needs which can be supplied only by politicians.

If there be poverty in such a richly endowed state as California, that must be an indication that a greater and more powerful economic organization than Mr. Sinclair can establish. The N.R.A. is a creation of both practical politicians and learned economists. It is a national, not a state, institution. If the N.R.A. has failed to create prosperity and abolish poverty over the whole country, what chance has a state organization, even if set up by an inspired leader, to abolish poverty in one remote corner of the Republic?

We are told almost every day by stump speakers, spouters over the radio, and busy writers of letters to editors, that the common people have lost confidence in politicians of the old order. That may or may not be true; but the truth must be admitted that some of the politicians of the old order have justified by their speeches the criticisms of their radical opponents. If Mr. Sinclair has declared that by some economic miracle he can abolish poverty in California, there are politicians in Canada who are declaring every day that by the simple political process of turning over government to the common people, government in there will be an immediate business revolution, prosperity will abound, there will be work for everybody, and poverty will vanish over the border.

Mr. Mitchell Hepburn is a Canadian Upton Sinclair. A few months ago he told the unemployed of Ontario that if they helped him to kick Premier Henry out and let him in, there would be an abundance of work for everybody at minimum rates of pay. Compared to most of the other provinces of the Dominion and states of the American Union, Ontario has been prosperous; but there are still many people unemployed. It would have been a miracle if it were not so; for even Mr. Mitchell Hepburn is not endowed with miraculous powers. Acceleration of the wheels of business must be accomplished gradually. Poverty cannot be dispelled like a phantom by waving of a magic wand. Mr. Hepburn gave the people a pledge which could not be redeemed, and which he must have known could not be redeemed; consequently he is a type of public man which brings responsible public men into disrepute.

In his campaign for power in the Dominion, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King is imitating the methods of his Ontario colleague.

He says he will bring prosperity to Canada if elected. That is a rather vague promise, but the method by which prosperity is to be accomplished is stated. The trade of Canada, although it is expanding, is limited by international trade walls. Mr. King is going to level all these barriers, and does not say how he is going to do it; but did not the walls of Jericho fall down when Joshua blew his bugle horn?

CITIZENS' SHELTER

Sir,—In perusing the columns of your valuable paper, I notice an appeal from the committee of the Citizens' Shelter for donations to carry on the good work of the shelter. Having had the privilege of using the rooms for two years, before I was located in this district, I would like to state the great benefit I received, both social and educational, from the institution. During my life I have traveled in many countries and have never seen so little crime as in Victoria. I know the influence of the Shelter has contributed to this fact in recent years. The citizens of this picturesque city do not realize the able work done by the shelter, secretary, A. H. Hundleby, in uplifting the moral code of our native sons, also the stranger within our gates. The committee that organized the rooms has earned our lasting gratitude, and, speaking from experience, I urge the citizens to respond generously to this call that the good work may continue.

PRIZE FOR EXHIBITION

Sir,—Now that the exhibition and the racing season is over and the tumult and the shouting has died down, and the public have had a good time all round both in attending the exhibition and the races, I would like to extend my hearty congratulations to the Exhibition Association and its manager in putting on such splendid livestock and manufactured exhibits which exceeded anything ever attempted at the local show.

The judging too was fair and impartial and altogether we ought to be proud as citizens of this year's exhibition. The weather man proved to be more than genial and helpful. I would also like to pay a tribute to the British Columbia Electric Railway Company for the excellent transportation facilities in conveying the vast number of citizens and visitors alike to and from the Willows, and the courtesy shown by the street car men which is a credit to the B.C.E.R. Company. All through those rush days there was not an accident reported. That is indeed a wonderful showing in itself. Like many others I paid many visits to the Willows during the fair and I know whereof I speak.

WORK FOR S.P.C.A.

Sir,—I have recently arrived in your city from the states, and though immensely impressed by its beauty, am equally horrified at the condition of some of the horses on the roads, especially that driven by a Chinese vegetable peddler. The harness hanging by a few strings and a cart so literally in pieces that the miserable horse is entirely handicapped.

I am informed that the S.P.C.A. has the case under supervision but can hardly credit that statement, as surely the case some definite action would be taken. The lack of progression in such matters is great cause for comment and a blot on a city of this size.

THE TAX PROBLEM

Sir,—Just ten years ago I submitted a summary of the then overburden of taxation in British Columbia a very large percentage of which was due to the unnecessary cost of levying and collecting from and in connection with the multiplicity of sources of taxation.

At that time I advocated a one tax law and collection based upon "net income," each municipality to make the levy and collection, paying over to the Provincial and Dominion Government their pro rata shares, augmented in their case by other means of revenue not enjoyed by municipalities.

During the interval the tax problem has become intolerable and we witness a growing tendency of all parties concerned to lean toward the income tax, land and property and other sources having proved abortive.

Does it concern city or Government whether ability to pay taxes is derived from land, business, industry, bond or other investments from which income is derived? The only means of meeting all obligations, including taxes, is the "net income," in other words the annual balance available with which to meet living expenses, taxes, and un-

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of September 26, 1884)

Mrs. Graham and her son returned from Oyster Bay yesterday. While there they located a plot of ground which they had secured for the purpose of building a house. The object of their return to this city is chiefly to engage men, and if successful, they will return to Oyster Bay on Monday next.

Shamuel Price and party, who arrived from Alberni last Friday night, have completed the clearing of the trail for the entire distance. Mr. Price reports that the crops are good at Alberni, especially potatoes. Mr. Merryfield having secured fifty jack rabbits were only planned there.

On Tuesday, Mary Van Gleave, daughter of Judge Van Gleave, was drowned. She started to go to the postoffice in a rowboat, and it is supposed that while stepping to halt on some water in the bottom of the boat, she slipped, struck her head and fell into the water. She was found, she had a bad bruise on her face, and this seems the most probable explanation of the accident, as, being an excellent swimmer, she would otherwise have saved herself.

New watercraft made of large diameter have been placed on Courtenay Street, between Douglas and Store Streets.

der favorable conditions increase income earning assets.

While it would appear more logical that the one levy, collection, and distribution should be made by the Dominion or Provincial Governments through the Civil Service, the municipality is usually free from party and patronage, is more intimate in touch with the citizen and his financial affairs and would be in the most favorable position to operate with little if any increase of staff or expense.

The levy and collection would of course be made subject to Government inspection.

MANY STRIKERS FIND JOBS GONE

Lockouts in Textile Mills Prolong Bitterness of Recent Dispute in United States

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP).—Lockouts in many mills and vehement charges of employer discrimination against unionists today prolonged the bitterness of the United States textile strike, now officially ended.

A majority of the industry's factories reopened and welcomed the strikers back to their jobs, but a large number continued idle. Some mill owners bluntly told strike participants that their jobs had been filled.

Francis J. Gorman, strike leader, asserted that all cases of discrimination would be carried promptly to the Labor Relations Board which President Roosevelt is to appoint soon to adjudicate textile labor disputes.

PLAYING WITH KNIFE BRINGS CHILD DEATH

STEVENSVILLE, Mont., Sept. 25 (AP).—Playing with a pocket knife brought a life of Mary Kathryn Perry, eight, last night. Holding the open knife in one hand, she started to run across the street and fell, the blade piercing her heart.

The girl died soon after she was carried to a physician's office.

CHAPTER XXI

Hover had gone to the hotel manager's office after dinner and had spent most of the evening there. At nine o'clock Rawlins' nurse had called for the manager and insisted that he come upstairs. He had been gone for ten or fifteen minutes and Hover had gone to find him.

The nurse was upset because Rawlins was not in his room. She had gone off duty for an hour because he said he was tired and wanted to sleep. When she came back the bed was empty. She called several rooms and could not locate any of the men on the team who roomed at the hotel. She then became alarmed and called the manager. There was no trace of Rawlins anywhere. They looked in the courtyard first; they searched the hotel from top to bottom. There was no sign of a struggle in the room. The bed covers were thrown back as if he had slipped from the bed. His slippers were under the bed and his bathrobe was on a chair. His clothes were hanging in the cupboard.

The house detective was called in. The maid on the floor had not seen anything unusual in the hall and none of the maids had seen a man in pyjamas wandering about. One of the maids, however, could not be found. She was not in the linen room nor on any of the other floors. The search then became twofold, but neither the maid nor Rawlins could be found. Then the police were called in.

By a series of questions the police unearthed the following facts: Huette, Rawlins' assistant, went to see Rawlins right after the game and was with him for about fifteen minutes; Rawlins was pretty sore at him because of the Butcher's successful defeat, and Huette went away sulking; one or two of the members of the team stopped at the door to inquire for him; his talk with Huette had tired him and he refused to take his supper when it was brought in; he wanted to rest and the nurse had left him for about an hour. That was all that turned up from the police efforts. The missing maid was checked and had not left the hotel by the usual means. Her clothes were in her locker and there was no reason to suppose that she was anything other than she appeared to be. She lived in South Chicago and had been employed by the hotel for over four years. She was competent and well liked by the management.

"Now you've got the whole story," Hover said when the bottle was empty "and know as much as I do."

Both Terry and Craven looked at Doc Biers for confirmation. Biers nodded.

"It's true," Hover said. "You can wire your papers if you want to, but Doc and I beat you to it. He lurched to his feet and ambled toward the door. 'Come on, Doc, I'll buy you a drink.'"

Doc Biers smiled and followed Hover through the door.

"It's crazy," Craven said. "This whole thing is a crazy nightmare. What will happen next? Know anybody here, Terry, anybody at headquarters who would give you the inside dope?"

Terry shook his head. He knew no one and was glad of it. He was secretly glad that for once he had not been in the thick of the mystery. He heaved a sigh of relief.

"I know one of the bulls here," Craven said. "Maybe he can help us out. I'll call him in the morning."

They both sent wires to their papers and sat talking about the probabilities of Rawlins' vanishing. It was just eleven-thirty when Terry's telephone rang. It was Doc Biers. He was having trouble getting Hover to bed and called for help.

"They both went up to the eighth floor and were working over Hover when they heard a horrified cry in the corridor. A cold chill ran down Terry's spine. The three men looked at each other in startled amazement. Doors were opening along the corridors and they heard excited voices. Craven raced down the hall, following Terry.

The hotel was one of the older Chicago hotels, as things go now, but new enough to be one of the first to put in service doors. They were not like the more recent ones. They were longer and deeper than the new ones and there was no chance of squashing a suit nor was it necessary to flatten out your laundry bag in order to get it in the door.

A bellboy stood shaking in the centre of a crowd before an opened service door. The inner half of the door was open, and outlined against the light which came from a lighted window across the court dangled the body of a man.

The body was hung from the hook meant to hold coat hangers. The head was bent forward on its chest and the long pyjama-clad legs hung limply down into the room beyond. Craven knelt down and looked up at the face.

"It's Rawlins," he whispered to Terry.

There was the sound of excited voices and three men came hurrying down the corridor. They were Clayton, the manager; Terman, his house detective, and the night clerk, who was just going on duty.

"What's the matter, Carter?" Clayton asked the still shaking bellboy.

The boy pointed to the body in the doorway. Terman whistled and moved forward to have a better look.

The house doctor came hurrying up just then, went into the room and closed the door.

"Call the police," Clayton said to Terman. He turned to the people grouped in the hall. "Won't you people please go to your rooms?"

The crowd moved back a little, but did not disperse.

Mining Congress Is Warned U.S. Drifting Toward Dictatorship*Berkeley Dean Launches Scathing Attack on Governmental Control—Says Policies of Country Never More Unsound

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (AP).—The warning that "the United States was drifting toward dictatorship" was raised today by Frank H. Probert, of Berkeley, as the American Mining Congress, Western Division, plunged into the second day of its week-long convention here. Probert, Dean of the College of Mining, University of California, sharply criticized reforms which he labeled distinctly Socialistic.

"It is to be hoped," Probert told the convention, that the reforms "will not destroy every vestige of private initiative and capitalistic economy, otherwise we may find ourselves condemned eternally to roll the stone of forlorn hope up the steps of despair."

Dismissing from an interpretation of the importance of minerals in modern life, the British-born and educated engineer stated:

FLAGRANTLY QUESTIONABLE

"At no time in the history of this country have our policies been so unsound, our principles so distorted or our practices so flagrantly questionable as to invite destruction."

PAY FOR OWN TORTURE

"Not only are we subject to this deadening virus of control and competition, but we are compelled to pay for the torture out of our own pockets by taxes."

Noting the growth of the public debt to "over 26 billion dollars," Dean Probert observed: "Someone, some day, must pay the piper." He turned his fire on the N.R.A., especially to Section 7A of the Recovery Act, declaring: "Labor rides in the saddle today. It has a tight grip on the reins of Government. With the burdens imposed upon capital, the attitude of labor should be co-operative and adaptive. Wages should represent money earned, not money demanded or legislated."

He asserted that the main labor abuses long before the N.R.A. went into effect.

NEARING SATURATION

The speaker forecast a decline in the demand for common metals, saying he believes "we are nearing a saturation-point. We face, probably for years to come, not an expanding, but a replacement market, and this restricted demand may in large part be met from salvaged metal of past industry. "It is estimated that half of virgin base metals produced is consumed in constructive industries. This in part explains the abnormal demand for copper, lead and zinc. Current prices reflect these conditions. For many years there was a concerted effort on the part of the producers of copper to maintain fictitious prices, disregarding the inexorable law of supply and demand. It was disastrous and bitterly have we paid for it."

PIONEER SUIT TO BE ARGUED

Claim of $240,000 at Stake in Appeal to Supreme Court of Canada

Involving approximately a quarter of a million dollars, a suit between interests of the Pioneer Gold Mines Ltd. and the British Columbia Treasury will enter its third court shortly, with the Province in the role of respondent to the appeal. Colonel Eric Pepler, departmental solicitor, left on Monday, en route to Ottawa to attend the opening of the case before the Supreme Court of Canada.

The Province was successful on the last appeal, said to involve disposition of a taxation settlement in the neighborhood of $240,000. Appeal from the judgment of the last British Columbia court is being taken now by the mining concern.

CHARGE PARAGUAYANS FIRED ON BRAZILIANS

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 25 (AP).—Reports received here yesterday from Puerto Suarez, on the outskirts of the Chaco Boreal fighting, said Brazilian soldiers stationed at Rio Apa had been fired on by Paraguayans.

The Brazilian flag at Rio Apa was hit, the reports said.

The War Ministry today announced that two Bolivian planes engaged two Paraguayan ships in combat over the Caranday sector and shot them down.

Two men were killed and a third was injured last night when the airplane in which they were attempting to take off from a pasture, a half mile west of here, crashed into a tree. The trio had previously made a forced landing in the pasture.

Two Killed in Airplane Crash

TIFFIN, Iowa, Sept. 25 (AP).—Two men were killed and a third was injured last night when the airplane in which they were attempting to take off from a pasture, a half mile west of here, crashed into a tree. The trio had previously made a forced landing in the pasture.

AND LADIES—NO GREASE SPOTS!!

Here are SEVEN SHELL RULES ON LUBRICATION CLEANLINESS from Service Station Instruction Manual:

1. Safeguard upholstery against grease spots with Shell seat covers.
2. Use covers on steering wheel, gear shift lever, and fenders.
3. Wipe all surface oil from locks and hinges.
4. Vacuum inside of car.
5. Polish the chromium.
6. Dust the body.
7. Clean all windows and headlights.

SHELL OIL COMPANY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA, LTD.

It STANDS to reason no person can remember fifty or more lubrication points for all the models of even one make of car. Not to mention all the different makes.

You don't risk "overlooked points" when you go to Shell stations. They have a Shell Check-Chart lubrication procedure for every car of recent years—worked out jointly by Shell engineers and the car manufacturer. The Check-Chart covering your particular model is strictly followed. Nothing can be missed.

And remember, today's cars require from eight to eleven special lubricants, and Shell stations are stocked with every needed type. You don't get ordinary cup grease where a water-proof lubricant should go. Or mixed lubricants that "fight."

What's more, where you see a Shell lubrication insignia, there's a man carefully trained in his work by Shell lubrication engineers.

Why not look into this safer, more complete service today?

There is life in the left hand picture with the light streaming down over the boy's shoulder; the light in other picture is "flat" and uninteresting.

If you have ever made snapshots, and puzzled over the sheer magic of them—

If you've ever said: "What a picture that would make!" and then neglected to take it—

If you've discovered that picture making is one of the most satisfying hobbies—

Then you are a member, automatically, of the Snapshot Guild. Never heard of the Snapshot Guild? Well, maybe, but the Guild has existed without a name for a long time. You can spot its members by their alert eyes—eyes which see striking pictures where ordinary folks see nothing of interest—their cameras and their frank impatience while they wait for the delivery of a new batch of finished films and prints.

Chances are, you've been a member for some time.

This is the first time we, of the Snapshot Guild, as such, have ever attempted to gossip, in print, about our mutual pleasures and problems. Oh, yes, there are—and have been—plenty of magazines and books and scientific articles about photography, but they are pretty much concerned with deep technicalities. With that sort of thing we do not need to bother too much, because we can get along without most of it, and, with a little attention to simple suggestions, get what we all want—better, more pleasing pictures.

This time, for a starter, let's consider this point. Why do some snapshots have life and sparkle, while others do not?

Disregarding, for the moment, the influence of over or under-exposure (the new films take care of that, neglected, anyway), it comes down to a matter of lighting, particularly the angle and direction of the light.

It's still a pretty good rule to shoot with the sun over your shoulder, but—for more striking results—try working at angles, shooting across the light.

For example, in the later afternoon when, of course, light is coming from the west, try aiming at your subject from the north or south. In this way you get strong lighting on the side toward the sun plus definite shadows on the other side.

It's the play of strong light with good shadow that gives you a lively, pleasing picture.

Look over some of your prints. See if the best of them don't have this characteristic: some bits pure white, some of deep black and a lot of intermediate tones. The prints that are all grey will be unsatisfactory ones. Right?

Experiment with light angles. You may even find that you can shoot straight into the light, if you shade the lens from the sun. In this way, you'll get strong highlights and very deep shadows. If that's what you want—try it.

See you here next week. Meanwhile, happy hunting!

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

BOARD MEETS AT COURTENAY

Deals With Question of Commercial Fishing and Boat Accommodation

COURTENAY, Sept. 25.—The regular meeting of the Courtenay Comox Board of Trade, on Monday night, marked the first of such meetings after the summer recess. Several matters of public benefit were dealt with. In response to an inquiry from the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau as to whether there are any fishing grounds in the district, not open to commercial fishing, but which it would be advisable to have reserved for sport fishing, the secretary had replied to the effect that inasmuch as many of the small boatmen have commercial licences and are making a few dollars in season by fishing for the caribou, the use of the word "commercial" would doubtless be advantageous to reserve such grounds as those off Point Holmes and Little River for the fishermen and sportsmen, and to prohibit seiners and large power boats from fishing in these waters. The secretary's action was confirmed.

The matter of providing better accommodation for the small boats from the adjacent islands came to a head when Charles Simms offered to assist with wharf frontage on his property. The Board of Trade agreed to contribute towards the cost of such a dock, and the order of walking a steep plank at low water may be avoided by the passengers.

President J. M. Mitchell reported on the Duncan convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Vancouver Island in July, and read reports of subsequent action on the various resolutions which has taken place since the convention.

A. B. Ball, reporting for the entertainment committee of the local board, gave particulars of the entertainments provided for the officers and men of the warships during their visit to Comox.

The advisability of placing a reflector warning light on the city hall was discussed, and a letter from the board will request the City Council to have this done.

It was decided to invite Mr. Harold Cliffe, to address the next meeting of the members on the glacier region a few miles west of Courtenay. Mr. Cliffe has recently conducted several parties in to this scenic fair land. Members of the Mountaineering Club will also be invited to the meeting.

Race Wagers Up—Final returns for bets laid at British Columbia race tracks this year were being checked by the Treasury yesterday, preparatory to release shortly. It is unofficially understood that wagers were higher this year, in comparison with last, though to what degree is not yet stated.

Three Black Widows—Three Black Widow spiders, picked, were in the possession of the Provincial Museum, yesterday, all from southern interior sections of the province. Frank Kermode, director of the institution, acknowledged receipt of two additional specimens of the poisonous insect, as company for "Maria," the original Black Widow put in the museum here.

Rotary Programme—Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott Boone, Field Artillery, of Seattle, will be the speaker at the Victoria Rotary Club luncheon meeting tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. in the Empress Hotel ballroom. His subject will be "The Drama of the Pacific." Colonel Boone is a member of the Rotary Club of Seattle.

Preparations for Meeting—The British Columbia Government is considering what representations will be made on behalf of the Province at the coming Ottawa conference, Premier Pattullo intimated yesterday. It is unofficially expected that the Premier, Hon. John Hart and Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir will attend the fourth Dominion-Provincial gathering, with possibly one other member of the Cabinet.

To Give Lecture—F. W. Brander, of Ottawa, will give a lantern lecture before the Cathedral Men's Guild tomorrow at 8 p.m., one subject being "Hampden Court Palace." A large attendance of members is hoped for, and an invitation is extended to any other men who may care to take advantage of the opportunity. The meeting will take place in the guild room of the Memorial Hall.

Conservatives Meet—Ward Five, Victoria, Conservative Association will hold its annual meeting at the Conservative House, Campbell Building, this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. Election of officers and other business will be considered. The meeting will be held in the hall of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, which is being held at the same time and place. The annual meeting of the central association will take place on October 4.

Injured Recovering—Mrs. H. S. Jones, who was severely injured in the Sunday afternoon automobile accident at the intersection of Yates and Richardson streets, was reported to be progressing favorably by St. Joseph's Hospital authorities.

He is charged with having stolen an automobile belonging to the British Columbia Fire Chiefs' Association, which took place in the district at the week-end.

On Friday, the gathering was welcomed by Mayor Simms. Vernon Stewart, president of the association and ex-chief of the Victoria fire department, gave an outline of the programme. E. Dowling, chief engineer, British Columbia Board of Fire Underwriters; representatives of the Courtenay and Cumberland city councils; Thomas Scott, superintendent, Canadian Collieries; R. Shaw, superintendent, and J. H. Powell, Victoria Water Works, and others.

Interesting papers were read by Chief Powell, of Port Alberni, and Assistant Chief John Cameron, of Cumberland.

During the convention a visit was paid to the Canadian Collieries power plant and the visitors descended No. 5 Mine, where a battery of powerful pumps was inspected. A fire-fighting demonstration was staged in Cumberland, which was followed by a luncheon given by the city. In the afternoon, the visitors were taken for a drive around the district, and the city of Courtenay were hosts to them at luncheon. At the close of the deliberations, all visitors were guests of the Courtenay fire department at an enjoyable dance.

bore away on a broad reach for the first mark. Endeavour soon began to drop Rainbow on the latter's best point of sailing and rounded the first mark twenty seconds ahead of the defender.

Vanderbilt took in his Genoa mark and set his stay and quadrilateral. Sopwith clung to the Genoa, in the handling of which he admits he knows very little.

Vanderbilt came about on the port tack and Sopwith promptly followed, but it was a much more difficult job shifting the big Genoa over than Vanderbilt experienced when tacking with a double head sail rig. Vanderbilt then came about and stood on the port tack out to sea. Sopwith failed to cover him.

In so failing, he ignored the fundamental rule in yacht racing, which ordains that, having established an advantage, you must keep your boat between your opponent's boat and the weather mark. Sopwith did not do this. He allowed Vanderbilt to sail off on the port tack, while he held the starboard tack in towards shore.

Vanderbilt held his port tack until he found the wind changing, then he came about on the starboard tack and just to leeward of the weather mark. Endeavour by this time was at least two miles away, still holding the same starboard tack.

She held it like grim death and when she finally came about and stood on the port tack for the mark, she was headed by the same shift of wind favoring Rainbow.

The defender was required to make a short tuck in order to round the buoy, but she led the Endeavour by 2 minutes, 40 seconds.

THIRTY-SEVEN ADVANTAGE

Sopwith had paid dearly for throwing overboard the first principle of yacht racing. For the fourth consecutive time he had handed the race already won to his more skilled opponent. Only on this occasion he had thrown in the America's Cup for better measure.

Endeavour, the magnificent, fretted, while inexperienced hands fumbled with her spinnaker for the run home.

After seven and one-half long minutes had elapsed, as compared with the two and one-half minutes required by the professional Scandinavians aboard the Rainbow for the same job, the great kite bellied out and, lifting the challenger like a thing alive, sent her bolting after the defender.

LONG STERN CHASE

But a stern chase is a long chase, and the finish line was less than eight miles away. Three miles and she had clipped off a full minute. Two more miles and another minute went by the board. As the yachts neared the finish a third minute was due to topple. But it was not to be.

The challenger had given of her best. She had given more, indeed, than her most enthusiastic supporter could reasonably hope. She had only stopped short of the impossible.

Rainbow led her across the line by 55 seconds.

Sopwith said Endeavour would start back to England in about a week, sailing part of the way under her own canvas if the weather permitted, in tow of his yacht Vita if it didn't. He expects to sail for home from New York as soon as possible. Charles Nicholson, designer of the challenger, left for New York immediately.

A GREAT SHOWING

Endeavour's showing, in the opinion of the experts, was the greatest ever made by any challenger. She outlasted Rainbow completely in the first two official matches after the first test failed of completion within the five and a half hour time limit. Sail bunting cost her a third victory today and several miles of sea water in her three other defeats.

The series set many records. Endeavour broke the cup record for thirty-mile triangular course when she sailed to her second victory a week ago today in 3 hours 9 minutes 1 second. On the same day she broke the cup mark for a ten-mile beat to windward by sailing that leg in 1:18:19. Rainbow had set a new cup record for a fifteen-mile beat to windward the day before in 2:04:09.

This was the first series that ever went to six races for decision. The previous record was five, in the series of 1871 and 1920, the latter the year in which Shamrock IV won two races from Resolute.

Were Celebrating First Meeting in Many Years When Struck by Locomotive

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 25 (AP)—A railroad locomotive today struck and killed two men celebrating their first meeting since they were boyhood pals in a little town in Europe.

They met near Scotts Run, a mining settlement. All day long they celebrated and then, weary, sat down on the railroad tracks to talk over old times.

They did not see a locomotive thundering down the tracks. The engineer leaned out of his cab and saw the two—each with an arm around the other's shoulder. The whistle shrieked. But these two old-timers still did not hear.

The rector had invited the village boys to the rectory for a strawberry tea. After they had finished, he, seeking to point the moral said: "Now, boys, wasn't that nicer than breaking into my garden and helping yourselves?"

"Oh, yes," chorused the boys. "And why was it nicer?" he asked a chubby-faced boy.

"Because, sir," was the reply, "we shouldn't have had any sugar and cream with them."

Trial Flights of Britain's Hope in Race Satisfactory

Specially Designed for England-Australia Air Derby, New Comet Plane Meets All Expectations in Exacting Tests

First trial flights at Hatfield Aerodrome of the De Havilland Comet monoplane, which has been designed and built especially for the England-Melbourne air races next month, have been satisfactory. Details of the performance achieved by this ultra-modern product of aeronautical engineering are not yet disclosed, but it is safe to state that the guaranteed maximum speed of 200 miles an hour should be well within the capabilities of the aircraft, and that in one respect—non-stop range attained in a design restricted by ordinary commercial airworthiness regulations—it is likely to set a standard never previously reached. While complying with every requirement in safety factors and rapidity of take-off included in the international regulations that govern the design of an ordinary airline vehicle, the Comet promises to be capable of flying in still air on one fuel load a distance of no less than 2,700 miles.

Three Comets have been entered for the speed and handicap races organized to celebrate the centenary of the State of Victoria and the city of Melbourne. Each will be finished in a distinctive color. The machine to be flown by C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black will be all scarlet; that entered by Bernard Rubin, who has done much motorcar racing, will be green, which is the British international racing color; that entered and flown by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Molloy will be black with its registration letters picked out in gold.

RARE CRAFTSMANSHIP
Press correspondents were permitted to inspect the Comet, in the workshop where it has been built in great secrecy, a few days before the first flight. Its construction has absorbed the thoughts of the De Havilland design staff since the beginning of the year. Thousands of experiments have been conducted to determine the best possible shape and structure for every component. Today, the three machines represent expenditure by companies of many thousands of pounds in excess of the £5,000, which they will receive from each purchaser. The result is an airplane that is daring but eminently sane in design and construction, built to a standard of workmanship that has never been surpassed.

Operating principally between United Kingdom, California, Puget Sound and British Columbia ports, the Fruit Express are getting a big share of the trade. Reider Glojme, general representative of the line at Seattle, stated yesterday, the Washington, California and Oregon, are sister vessels, and are the very latest thing in refrigerated vessels, and carry no other freight but fruit, while they have splendid accommodation for a limited number of passengers.

These ships are of 4,500 tons net, the engines being full Diesel, propelling the vessels at an average speed of seventeen knots, the time from San Francisco to Liverpool taking twenty-one days only. If business offers, Havre and Rotterdam are also ports of call. Mr. Glojme stated, The Fruit Express Line ships fly the Norwegian flag, and are registered at Oslo. Mr. Glojme spent the time here calling on local transportation men in the interest of the Fruit Express Line.

SEVEN BALLOONS DOWN IN RUSSIA

Five Thought to Be Blown Towards Karelia Area—Four Others Accounted For

MOSCOW, Sept. 25 (AP).—Five balloons participating in the twenty-second annual Gordon Bennett Cup race that started at Warsaw, Poland, Sunday, still had not been reported tonight.

Aviation circles here expressed the opinion that some of them, swept along by northwesterly winds, might have been carried into the Karelia area north of Leningrad.

A region of vast forests and thousands of lakes, Karelia might hold the balloons for weeks before they could get news of their landing to the outside world.

Seven of the sixteen competing balloons landed on Russian soil, two came down in Estonia, another was grounded in Lithuania, and the eleventh landed 300 kilometers northeast of Helsingfors, Finland, on Finnish territory.

What Today Means

"LIBRA" If September 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to noon, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 9 to 11 p.m.

Dilatory tactics practiced by business men may prove rather exasperating on this date, if you should be endeavoring to close transactions involving substantial sums of money. Do not, however, feel discouraged, for if you persevere it may be a very short time before the deals are consummated. It may prove excellent judgment to take nothing for granted on this date, but satisfy yourself thoroughly before accepting vague statements and promises. Be cautious a talkative individual does not talk you into doing something you may later regret. Influences conducive to excitement or confusion can be counteracted by not allowing your nerves to become "jumpy" or your temper being aroused. If you will make up your mind to maintain a friendly attitude towards everyone with whom you come in contact on this date, there is every possibility of it being a very pleasant one. You may be requested to do something in a great hurry, but it might prove a good policy to do whatever you are asked to do well, even if it takes a little more time. Married and engaged couples, as well as those eager to plight their troth, will do well on this date to avoid showing any signs of annoyance or irritability over little trifles.

If a woman and September 26 is your natal day, you are very likely highly emotional and romantic. You probably are easily affected by exciting or distressful scenes, so for your own happiness you should avoid them. Plays and books of a morbid or sad nature should be blacklisted by you. Seek comedies and amusing stories. While capable of artistic achievement, work of an industrial nature may offer better money possibilities for one of your temperament. You should make a wonderful housewife and get a great deal of happiness and contentment out of your own home.

The child born on September 26 generally, when it reaches its teens, shows a decided preference for some particular line of work. It might prove a great mistake to force it to become interested in something else. If a man and September 26 is your birth anniversary, your motto should be "Judge not that ye be not judged," for you may be prone to jump to hasty conclusions regarding people. A natural-born money maker, you should prosper in any line of business you give your earnest attention to and learn thoroughly. You should be happy married.

Romance of the Rockies Is Fascinating Theme

Women's Canadian Club Hears Interesting Address by Mr. Dan McCowan, of Banff—Comtesse de Suzannet Is Soloist

To anyone who loves the great outdoors, the address given by Mr. Dan McCowan, of Banff, yesterday afternoon, at the opening meeting of the Women's Canadian Club for the winter season, was more than a mere lecture, for into it the speaker wove all the romance of his subject, and his slides were masterpieces of the photographer's art.

The title of his address was "The Land of the Stony Indians," and he told, in a most fascinating way of the manners, habits and customs of this "the poorest, yet the most aristocratic of all the Indian tribes." The name, "Stoney," he said, originated from the custom of boiling water by means of dropping heated stones into large moosehide containers filled with water, although the official name of the tribe was Asinaboin, and it was after them that Mount Asinaboin, the most beautiful mountain in the Canadian Rockies, has been named.

FINE CHARACTERS

Mr. McCowan spoke in terms of admiration of the fine character of the older members of the race, who still maintain their high ideals, although the younger men are "becoming flashy cowboys at Western rodeos." Photographs of the Indians, their topees, beautiful beadwork and decorative art were all of great interest, and into his address, Mr. McCowan wove many fascinating anecdotes with the touch of a real artist.

Some of the photographs of the wild flowers of the Rockies were exceptional lovely, and in looking at those of the lakes with sentinel mountains towering above, one could almost feel the infinite peace which

Mr. McCowan so eloquently described. The description of the habits of the birds which travel from the coast to the mountain and prairie country at nesting time formed a highlight of the address, and infinite patience and skill had resulted in some unusually interesting photographs. Some of the details, which sounded almost incredible were "no mere accident," Mr. McCowan explained, "but form part of a perfect plan of nature." The nest of the osprey, an island on which the white pelican chooses as a nesting ground, and the sight of vast flocks of seagulls, which are to be found as far inland as Manitoba and Saskatchewan, were shown and described in detail.

Particularly fine were the pictures of the black bears, which have proved such a great attraction to tourists in the Canadian Rockies, the mule deer, wapiti, moose and other animals. The photographs were made even more attractive than the usual scenic slides shown, by the fact that they had been colored by Mrs. McCowan, and were perfect reproductions of natural color.

It was an address which made a great appeal to the listeners, on whose behalf Mrs. W. G. Wilson charmingly expressed a vote of thanks to Mr. McCowan.

Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, president of the club, was in the chair, and the soloist of the afternoon was Comtesse Jean de Suzannet, whose delightful song, "The Song of the 'Kishnu's Valley,' two Hebridean songs by Marjorie Kennedy-Fraser, were enthusiastically received. Miss Eileen Dumbleton playing the accompaniment in true musicianly style.

Mrs. Carmichael announced that Capt. H. G. Scott, of Calgary, will be the club's next guest speaker.

FAMOUS DANCE TEAM BOOKED FOR EMPIRE

A real treat is in store for Victoria theatre audiences, for, coming to the Empire Theatre this week-end with "The High Hatters of Rhythm," are Zerk and Clarette, internationally known dancing team. "The High Hatters" will open on Friday and will also show Saturday and Monday with a midweek matinee scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Monday.

Zerk and Clarette gained great popularity in London and Paris during their appearances there. Recently they were featured in two motion pictures produced in Hollywood by Warner Brothers, "The Fortune Teller," on the legitimate stage in New York City.

With the revue coming to Victoria on Friday, they will appear in the well-known and smart Brazilian dance, "The Carioca," and also in the lovely Hungarian gypsy dance they gave in the light opera, "The Fortune Teller," on the legitimate stage in New York City.

Colonist Presents Yacht Classic on Dominion's Screen

THE thrilling victory of Endeavour over the American defender, Rainbow, in the first of the America's Cup races is seen in the current issue of The Colonist Universal Newsreel, now showing at the Dominion Theatre, which presents the stirring parade of international sports ending a record-breaking 1934 Summer season. Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, vividly describes the cup race and the other important events in the sport.

Despite heavy seas, the British challenger pulls away from her rival, fighting gallantly for the first advantage in yachting's greatest classic. Other important events seen in the current reel include the sensational game played by W. Lawson Little, Jr., to annex the American amateur golf championship at Brookline, Mass.; the spectacular finish of the Futurity racing's richest purse, at Belmont Park, N.Y., in which Chance Sun comes home ahead of a formidable field, and the death-defying feats of hard-riding cowboys at the Pendleton, Ore. Round-Up, celebrated amid all the colorful pageantry of the old West.

MRS. JACKSON SCORES EASY WIN IN EASTERN GOLF

Victorian Trims Montreal Girl in Decisive Fashion

Uplands Club Contender Disposes of Yolande Moisan, 6 and 5—Faces Mrs. Vera Ford Today—Latter Impressive in Victory—Ada Mackenzie Beats Kay Farrell

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

SCARBORO GOLF CLUB, Toronto, Sept. 25 (CP)—Proficiency and gameness essential prerequisites of winner and loser alike in all lines of sport, were brought out in bold relief in today's first round play of the Canadian Ladies' Closed Golf championship.

Thrilling, uphill battles predominated in most of the matches, but none showed greater gameness than Mrs. A. B. Darling, of Montreal, whose big heart carried her over the final holes, despite a badly wrenched ankle, to score a victory on the eighteenth green against Mrs. G. Stanley, Toronto.

The accident occurred as the Montreal star was leaving the seventeenth tee along a down-hill path. She twisted her foot so badly that the pain forced her to take "time out." Almost unable to walk, she then offered to concede the match to her opponent, but the latter returned the gesture by asking to be allowed to withdraw.

The injury responded to treatment tonight and there was a good chance she would be in condition to proceed in the second round tomorrow.

Of seven Western Canadian players in today's round only three advanced, while the rest were swept to the sidelines. Mrs. C. B. Ford and Mrs. W. Silcock, both of Vancouver, and Mrs. G. Jackson, Victoria, formidable threats for the title, won their way into the second round brackets.

Those eliminated are: Mrs. R. K. Beazley, Winnipeg; Mrs. B. P. Pelien, Winnipeg; Miss K. Farrell, Edmonton; and Mrs. Roy H. Horne, Vancouver, holder of the Alberta title.

MRS. JACKSON WINS
Three others members of the qualifying brigade of five Montreal stars also advanced to the next brackets. Yolande Moisan, runner-up for the Quebec junior title three years ago and winner of the net score prize yesterday, was the lone casualty. She was unable to produce the brand of golf she uncovered in the qualifying test, nor match the experience of Mrs. Jackson, who gained the most decisive triumph of the day, a 6 and 5 decision.

Margery Kirkham has the easiest road to victory of the Montreal squad. Winner of the title in 1930 and runner-up in 1931 and last year, Miss Kirkham caught Mrs. B. P. Pelien, of Winnipeg, in a putting slump and sent her out of the running 5 and 4. Mrs. M. W. Soper, accounted for Miss Helen Reid, of Toronto, 4 and 3, while Mrs. J. Dagenais completed the successful march of the Quebec Province stars by defeating Mrs. E. Phillips, another Torontonian, 3 and 1.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, defending champion, of Toronto, was sufficiently consistent and steady when put to the test to vanquish Miss K. Farrell, a Vancouver, by a 5 and 4 verdict.

Experimenting with the large American ball for the first time this year, Miss Mackenzie experienced considerable trouble off the tees and lost distance frequently. Miss Farrell set herself a difficult task by falling five holes behind the champion through wildness on the outward journey. She recovered smartly after the turn to win two successive holes and even had Miss Mackenzie debating the advisability of changing back to the smaller ball.

The Torontonian, however, rallied in time to halt the challenge. One of the few aspects of the day brought about the elimination of Mrs. Horne. The Westerner was far below the form she displayed in the open event last week and bowed herself out of the hunt by a 2 and 1 score to Mrs. C. B. Shuttleworth, of Hamilton.

SURPRISE VICTORY
Another surprise result saw the elimination of the Ontario champion, Miss Mary Hunter, also of Hamilton, who took a 4 and 3 count under the steady, methodical shooting of another rising star, Miss Kitty Gordon, Toronto.

Mrs. Ford, who won the title back in 1924 and was a semi-finalist in the Canadian Open last week, was as brilliant as usual with her short irons to the green, but her march to victory was far from a rout. Meeting a fighting opponent, Miss Allen Aked, Toronto, she dugged without an advantage either way for nine holes, but the greater experience of the Pacific Coast player finally asserted itself and she won by a 3 and 2 margin.

Soccer Chatter

By A.P.A.N.

Well, we're off! The soccer season is on again, and hundreds of us will no longer be in anybody's way on Saturday afternoons for a few months to come, nor will the Wednesday half holiday be an unwelcome break in the weekly grind.

Soccer is a quiet, modest kind of game. Some other sports would have made a big splash on opening day, with brass bands, parades, public holiday, and all the trimmings. We just walked up to the park and watched a couple of games. That's all.

To those who were too busy backing winners, and to those who were afraid of the north wind, let me say at once that they missed two of the best opening games seen for a long time. Of course, we shall see better, but the dashing display of the Wests, and the plucky fight put up by the youngsters of the City, were worth while.

Aldersmith Is Winner of Cup

DUNCAN, Sept. 25—C. H. Aldersmith was winner of the Veterans Cup at the Cowichan Golf Club Sunday, defeating N. E. Suddaby 6 and 5. This is the second year that Mr. Aldersmith has been the winner of the cup.

The qualifying round of the ladies' championship at the Cowichan Golf Club was played yesterday. Mrs. H. N. Watson being medalist with a score of 94. Others in the championship round are Mrs. W. B. Harper with 95, Miss M. Peterson 96, Miss Jean Duncan 100, Mrs. P. Prest, Mrs. Boyd-Wallis, Mrs. K. P. Duncan and Mrs. P. G. Aldersey. Second flight, Miss P. Carr-Hilton, Mrs. J. Longbourne, Mrs. G. C. Share and Miss I. Clark. Third flight, Mrs. F. Oldham, by Mrs. J. M. Roiston versus Mrs. R. Nugent, Miss A. Powell and Mrs. C. C. Wright, byes.

Restall, West's goalie, was in fine form and we shall see some fine defensive work from that team in the game to come. Several other smart youngsters, Laird, Bell, and Loran, with others, give the West's management every encouragement to look to a prosperous season.

Equivalents were slow, slow even for a first game. Still clever, and still with the pick of the local stars such as Hay, Stewart, McBay, Wagland, and DeCosta, they will be as effective as ever as soon as they regain their usual speed and aggressiveness. We expect much better of them.

Considering that they were up against the huskiest and most robust team in the league, the new City team gave full satisfaction. If they had made more use of the wind, in the second half, and if their full-backs had done as well as their halves, they might at least have evened the score.

Tip-tapping against Seath's is of no value, the only way to beat them is at their own game, wide open, with the ball swinging from wing to wing, long accurate passing, and, above all, speed. Clever footwork is invaluable for positional purposes, but the City boys must open up the game more.

It is early to comment upon individuals in the new team, but on Saturday their strength lay in their half-back line. The forwards are clever, but need a little more thrust in the centre, and the backs, while playing a hard, uphill game, left too many openings for Sage and his gang.

There was nothing much wrong with the Thistlers, Orons, as usual, was a tower of strength, Rowe was safe, and Holmes pepped up the forward line a lot. When that team gets together they are going to take a lot of stopping.

It was only fitting that last year's trophies were presented to the winners by those two friends of the game, Aldermen John Worthington and James Adam. Mr. Worthington was one of the hardest workers on the committee of the Greater Victoria Playing Fields' Association, whose efforts resulted in the making of the MacDonald Park.

The acquisition of the new ground means that the ruggers now have a pitch of their own, consequently, soccer will have about twice as

Salmonbellies Turn Back Winnipeg Team in Western Canada Lacrosse

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—New Westminster Salmonbellies, British Columbia box lacrosse champions, defeated Winnipeg Wellingtons, 12-8, here tonight, in the first of a two-out-of-three game series for the Western Canada title and the right to enter the Dominion final.

Wellingtons appeared nervous when they took the floor against the more experienced and highly touted New Westminster squad, and at half-time were trailing Salmonbellies with a six-goal deficit.

Gaining confidence in the second half, the Winnipeggers, led by H. Penwarden, their high-scoring forward, took the play away from their opponents but their rally came too late.

TAKES EARLY LEAD
Salmonbellies went out for the lead from the opening whistle and rattled in four markers to one for Wellington in the first quarter. Continuing their furious attack in the second quarter, the Royal City sharpshooters whipped in five more goals while Penwarden carried the Winnipeg attack with a pair of counters. Salmonbellies led 9-3 at half-time.

Wellingtons found their pace in the third quarter and completely dominated the play as they out-scored Salmonbellies 4-1, and cut New Westminster's lead down to 10-7.

Wellingtons kept up their attack in the fourth and final quarter, but Salmonbellies kept their defense tight and held the Prairie champions to a single goal, while they scored twice to clinch the decision.

The second game will be played at New Westminster, Thursday night, and the third, if necessary, at New Westminster, Saturday night.

Garrison XV Enters Senior Division of Local Rugby League

Work Point Fifteen to Compete for "A" Honors This Season—Six Teams Are Entered—Five in Intermediate and Two in Senior "B"

Six Rugby fifteens will start out after the Barnard Cup, symbolic of the senior "A" championship, of the Victoria Rugby Union, on October 13, it was announced at yesterday's meeting of officials in The Colonist board room. One feature of the meeting was the entry of the Garrison squad, last season's "B" titleholders, into the senior division. For some time the Work Point lads were doubtful starters in the senior loop, but Dr. Hunter made the definite entry yesterday.

Altogether thirteen teams will be seen in action, including six in senior, two in senior "B" and five in intermediate league. In the senior company there is 5th Regiment, last year's champions and runners-up for the British Columbia crown; C. A. D. A. Scottish, Wanderers, Penwarden, 5th Regiment, and the Garrison.

TWO HALVES
On the suggestion of Russell Ketchen, former president of the union, it was decided to play the Barnard Penwarden (Harding), 1-43; 20, Salmonbellies, L. Lewis (A. Davy), 8-14. Penalties: McGrath, Anderson.

Junior Football

Junior football teams are reminded that entries for the local league will close on Monday. Four teams, Equimait, Otter Point, Sidney and James Island, have entered to date, and league officials are hoping to secure additional entries. Officials of the league have issued an appeal for referees, and those wishing to officiate are asked to communicate with President Fred Oliver.

The bowels must be kept active, and in these cases the use of small but regular doses of Epsom or Rochelle salts is thought advisable.

Any infection—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder, sinus infection—should be looked for and, if present, removed. Nitroglycerine should always be carried by the patient, as it means safety.

Paul Waner and Lou Gehrig again became tied for the Big Six lead yesterday, while the situation was further complicated by a three-way tie among a trio of National League hitters for sixth place. ## That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

THE USUAL SYMPTOMS OF ANGINA PECTORIS

"The term angina pectoris should be confined to a strangling or pressing sensation (not a stabbing pain or ache) under the breast bone, occurring from time to time, as the result of exertion, excitement or other stimulus, and passing away again in a few minutes by rest or the use of nitrites (drugs)."

I am quoting from an article by Dr. P. D. White in The Annals of Internal Medicine. He states that the pain in practically all cases is under the breast bone; very rarely in the region of the heart itself. It occurs most readily in persons who are extremely nervous.

Some of the other symptoms that may be present are (1) a feeling of numbness, (2) patient sits or stands motionless and hardly dares to breathe, yet there is no real breathlessness, (3) the face is pale or livid and the forehead wet with perspiration.

Usually there will be some organic condition found by the physician that is causing the attacks—hardening of the arteries, spasm of the arteries, or trouble in the big blood vessels into which the blood is pumped from the heart to go to all parts of the body, including, of course, the heart muscle itself. Something interferes or prevents the flow of blood into these small blood vessels supplying the walls of the heart. Yet in one-fifth of all cases no trouble or abnormality of the heart or circulation can be found.

During the attack, rest in the sitting position is the first thought; in fact, the patient fears to move. The special drug is nitroglycerine 1-100 of a grain. Amyl nitrite enclosed in a fine glass globe may be found.

Unusually sweet and delicious local cantaloupes are now on the market, and are selling at 16 cents and two for 35 cents. A new shipment of Okanagan cantaloupes is also here.

Housewives will be pleased to learn the price on leg of lamb has dropped a little, and is now 27 cents a pound. Other meat prices remain the same.

The negro parson was making an impassioned appeal for funds wherewith to repair the chapel, when a large part of the ceiling dropped on the head of a wealthy worshipper.

The injured man immediately called out, "I will give a thousand dollars to start the fund!"

"Lordy, hit some more wealthy members!" exhorted the preacher fervently.

Virginia Vane Says:

THE ART OF LAUGHING

Dear Miss Vane: I am in love with a man who is suited to me in every way. I am willing to marry him, and he says that I have many of the qualities he wants in a wife. But he objects to what he calls my "lack of sense of humor."

I believe that I have as much humor as most of the girls I know. I enjoy funny stories and am appreciative of wit. Yet on this little point alone the man I love is constantly criticizing me. He says we cannot be happy if we don't enjoy laughing at the same things. Also he complains that I am not at all appreciative of the things he laughs at. I admit that this is so, for we are very different people. But I wonder how he can really love me and yet make such a fuss about a minor point.—Paulette.

The business of laughing together is not a point of minor importance in the lives of two young people who want to get married. On the contrary, it is a matter to be considered seriously, since sense of humor or lack of it can do much to make or break a marriage.

The woman whose sense of the comic enables her to laugh through all the bad situations is bound to be the right kind of wife to live with. But if she can't depend on her husband to laugh with her—to share the joke, and thus rob life of its grimness at times—then she's going to be lonely. She can't go on indefinitely being the life and soul of her own home with absolutely no one to help her.

So that is a wise girl who studies her young man closely with a view to finding out whether he truly enjoys her bright moods as well as her sad ones, or whether he's just producing a polite chuckle for courtship purposes.

It's a wise girl, too, who stops and asks herself why her ardent swain finds her lacking in wit or humor. Doesn't it mean, perhaps, that her mind is lacking in originality or that she is lacking in the appreciation of life's comic values? Very often you'll hear the serious-minded little girl who is so busy worrying about petty details that she doesn't realize how much fun is passing her by. "Yes, of course I like a joke now and then. There's no harm in a joke. But I'm sure there's nothing funny about my losing that handkerchief and that dreadful man coming up with it and saying that he'd found it and there was nothing in it worth taking."

This type of literal-minded lady will get along beautifully with the man who thinks there is a time for everything, and that a joke is to be enjoyed only when there are more than two people present.

But if our thoughtful, serious, worried maiden happens to fall for a man with a real sense of humor, she is lost. She can't help looking offended when he breaks in on one of her long and earnest stories with a shout of delighted laughter.

She can't help looking preoccupied when she's thinking about practical details and her fun-loving spouse is determined to bring a laugh from her over one of his latest exploits. And thus she and the man she loves never share one of life's greatest boons—the joy of a good hearty laugh.

Believe me, it's more important than it sounds. Laughter is available for any young couple on any income. It can take the edge off the dull moments in life. It can give two people the effect of living richly and colorfully. In a house where there is real spontaneous laughter, there is little room for contemplation of the drabness of existence.

So don't pass over your fiancé's complaint, Paulette. Think it over. Why aren't you two able to laugh together? Are you too literal-minded, or is it that his jokes are too humorous?

Mark my words, nothing is duller than to live with a man whose wit bores you to tears. You'll find that as he grows older his stories grow longer, and if you don't appreciate them truly you'll have many hours of sheer torture ahead of you.

And if you're not supplying the kind of appreciation which a man likes from his best beloved, you'll soon be left out of his fun altogether. Woman can be a keen and receptive audience to her man's humor if she has the spark within her which responds to his brand of humor.

If she hasn't, she can dull his enjoyment of life and hurt his vanity to an extent where he seeks more congenial souls with whom to share his pleasures.

Tears and trouble bring men and women close to each other. So does laughter. It is a valuable factor in any home. It should be encouraged. And the boy and girl who are planning to spend life in each other's society ought to make a study of how to do the most laughing possible under any given set of circumstances.

In the congregation during Sunday morning service was a young bride whose husband was a salesman. Becoming terribly worried about having left the joint in the oven, she wrote a note to her husband, sending it off by another salesman.

The latter, thinking it was a note for the vicar, hurried down the aisle and laid it on the pulpit.

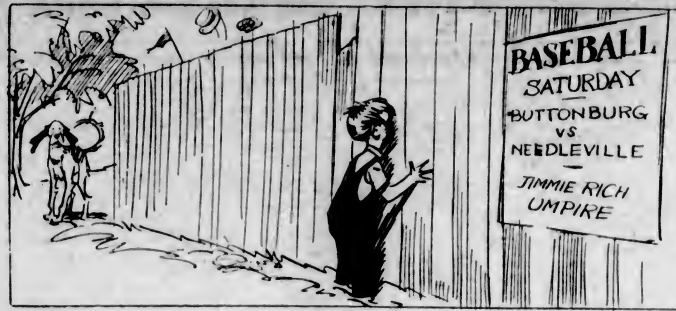

Stopping suddenly in the middle of the sermon to read the note, the astonished vicar was met with this written injunction:

"Please go home, dear, and turn off the gas."

Little Bedtime Stories

Unc' Billy Does Some Surprising Himself
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When Unc' Billy Possum, sitting in the dark beside Peter Rabbit down among the alders that grew along the Laughing Brook, first heard what sounded like the voice of Sticktoes the Treetoad he had thought just as Peter Rabbit did, that Sticktoes was over in an alder tree on the other side of the Laughing Brook. But when he heard a whisper right over their heads and looked up to see Sticktoes himself, Unc' Billy almost chuckled out loud.

Unc' Billy peered up through the alders

"You can't fool Uncle Billy, So don't go to try! Ah knows yo', yes, Ah knows yo'—Ah knows yo', Mistah Sly!" He said that to himself and quite under his breath, for all the time that Peter Rabbit and Sticktoes the Treetoad were whispering together, Unc' Billy Possum was stealing away under the alder bushes. Unc' Billy is very soft-footed, oh, very soft-footed indeed; when he wants to be. You see, one must needs to be soft-footed to steal eggs in Farmer Brown's henhouse. So Unc' Billy stole away without making a sound, and when Peter Rabbit turned to speak to him there was no Unc' Billy there.

Peter rubbed his eyes and stared all around, this way and that way, but no sign of Unc' Billy could he see. This so surprised Peter Rabbit that he felt queer all over. First there was the voice of Sticktoes over on the other side of the Laughing Brook when all the time Stick-toes wasn't there at all. Now here Unc' Billy Possum had disappeared just as if the earth had swallowed him up. "This isn't any place for me!" said Peter Rabbit, and so he started for the Green Meadows as fast as he could go, lippy-lippy-lippy. All this time Unc' Billy Possum had been crawling along without the faintest sound. When he came to the Laughing Brook he went up a way until he found a big tree with a branch stretching clear across the Laughing Brook. Of course Unc' Billy could have swam across, but he didn't feel like swimming that night, so he climbed the big tree, ran out along the branch, let himself down by the tail and then dropped. He was across the Laughing Brook without even wetting his feet.

Unc' Billy didn't waste any time. Just as soft-toed as before he crept along in the darkest shadows until he was right under the alder tree from which the complaining voice of Sticktoes the Treetoad seemed to come. Unc' Billy listened, and the longer he listened the broader grew the smile on Unc' Billy's shrewd face. "Thief! thief! thief!" It certainly sounded for all the world like Sammy Jay's voice, and it was all right over Unc' Billy's head. Unc' Billy peered up through the alders. The leaves were so thick that he could not see very well, but what he did see was enough. It was a long tail, a tail of feathers hanging down. It wasn't Sammy Jay's tail, either.

"Doan yo'all think that yo'all have joked enough?" asked Unc' Billy, trying hard to keep from chuckling aloud. "However can that have happened?" he asked. "My houses have looked down in surprise at Unc' Billy."

NEWS OF B.C. MINING

TO REVIVE OLD MONASHEE MINE

Attempt Will Be Made to Work Property Idle Forty Years

Monashee Mine, about fifty miles from Vernon in the Okanagan district, has been re-opened after forty years of idleness and is being developed by the group responsible for the original financing of Vidette Gold Mines.

The present development programme is expected to open up more than 500,000 tons of average grade ore by the Spring of 1935 when a mill of substantial capacity will be erected.

FIND ORE BODY

Former operators drove four tunnels at different levels on the main vein on the property and treated a considerable amount of ore in the California mill which was at that time on the property. When the property was examined last Fall by Dr. Victor Dolmage, and later by Gordon F. Dickson, managing director of Vidette Gold Mines, the two upper tunnels and the lower or No. 4 tunnel were all inaccessible due to caving. In the No. 3 tunnel, however, commercial ore was found for the entire distance of 300 feet, the old operators apparently taking it out as they drove the tunnel on the vein but making no attempt to stop.

Yankee Girl Now Near Production

Prediction that the Ymir Yankee Girl will shortly go into production with a good reserve of ore to guarantee continuous operation is contained in a non-technical report prepared by Robert Clarke, consulting engineer for Carlton M. Higbie, who recently acquired a large interest in the undertaking. According to Mr. Clarke the tramway is now rehabilitated, the mill completed and other improvements in the mine to facilitate the handling of ore accomplished.

The Yankee Girl Mine is a well-known one and a former producer, situated in the Nelson mining division.

News of Mines

By Bate & Co., Ltd.

Beattie Gold Mines, which came under operation three years ago in Northwestern Quebec, has developed into the ninth largest gold-producing mine in Canada. The enterprise was based upon a wide belt carrying $3.10 per ton in gold. Thayer Lindsey, head of Ventures, Ltd., engineered the plan. Nipissing was induced to participate. As a result, a major gold mine appears to be in the making. The plant is handling 1,100 tons daily at present, and the gross income of the company has reached a rate of over $2,000,000 a year. Ore is yielding $5 per ton. As soon as further experience is gained regarding metallurgy, a doubling up of the capacity of the mill is to be made. The payable deposit has a width of 108 feet.

McVittie-Graham has optioned two exceptionally well-located properties in the Sturgeon River area, the Walter Knox and the John Knox groups.

Great Bear Lake is enjoying a big increase in activity. Low water hampered summer navigation, but the difficulties were overcome and all equipment and supplies have been delivered at the mines. Edorado is going ahead on an increasing rate of production. White Eagle Silver Mines is enlarging the scope of work and is on its way toward establishing a substantial mine. Other enterprises are increasing activity.

Lakeshore Mines has written off its properties to a book value of $1 and has written off a plant of $5,500,000 to approximately $1,000,000, and at the recent rate of writing off should have this plant also down to zero within about two to three years. The company has set up a surplus of $10,000,000. Approximately $8,000,000 of this is cash in bank and gold bullion.

Gabrielle Mines has reached 325 feet in depth, where a station is being established preparatory to extending lateral work into the vein system. The first vein is estimated to lie within eighty feet of the shaft.

Smelter Gold has purchased a diamond drill outfit of its own as part of the plan to expedite development of the Akers vein. Until recently, this deposit on Smelter Gold was referred to as No. 3 vein, and had received very little attention. With engineers having determined this to be continuation of the Akers, the work during the next few weeks will be of unusual interest. On the adjoining God's Lake Mine the observation has been made that the rake of mineralization in the known ore bodies is toward the east. This may be of important significance to Smelter Gold, lying as it does on the easterly continuation of the main vein of God's Lake.

Sturgeon River has been the scene of great activity during the past few weeks. Ontario Government geologists have reported very favorably on the district. Many high-grade showings discovered and several prominent mining companies have staked claims in the district. Among the new companies formed is the Springer Sturgeon Gold Mines, which have eighteen claims on the Windigokan Lake, bought from Karl Springer Exploration Co. The public offering of a few days ago is now oversubscribed.

Glacier Creek — Word received from mine that the tunnel has advanced seventy-two feet to date, leaving less than 100 feet to go to encounter the vein. This should be accomplished in less than four weeks.

Rheumatism Caused Sore Back and Hand

Scarcely Able to Follow His Occupation

Dodd's Kidney Pills Soon Made This Man Well

LADY LAKE, Sask., Sept. 25 (Special).—"Last Winter I was troubled with Rheumatism in my left hand," writes Mr. P. Tymchuk, who lives at this place. "I read Dodd's Almanac right through and saw that many people got relief from Rheumatism by taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. So I tried them. After taking six boxes I was quite all right. Before I started taking them I could not ride my bicycle because my back ached so, but now I can ride and do my outdoor work."

Rheumatism is usually caused by the presence of uric acid in the blood. If the kidneys are functioning properly they will drain all uric acid out of the blood and there can be no Rheumatism.

For half a century Dodd's Kidney Pills have been relieving Canadian people of Rheumatism and Backache. Why not profit by their experience? (Adv.)

ENGINEER SETS GRANGE PROFIT

Believes New Marcey Mill Will Bring Tonnage to Sixty Daily

An operating profit of $242,040 a year on the present mill rate of 30 tons a day and $484,080 when the new Marcey mill is installed, bringing the mill rate to 60 tons a day, will be made, according to an analysis of costs, made by A. J. Gaul, M.E., consulting engineer for Grange Mines.

Mr. Gaul estimates total costs, including mining, milling, transportation and treatment, administration and insurance, depreciation and depletion at $8 per ton. Ore being drawn from the sixth level at the mine is averaging one ounce gold per ton or $34 per ton with mill recovery of 95 per cent leaving a gross profit per ton of $21.

AT MILL HEADS
"The average heads should not be less than one ounce of gold per ton, provided there is no vital change in the tenor of the ore," said the engineer. "Until the new Marcey mill now being installed is in operation the tonnage handled will not exceed thirty tons a day, but the additional grinding capacity will bring the mill tonnage up to at least sixty tons, possibly sixty-five tons a day."

Questioned regarding the tonnage of ore to be expected on the sixth level, Mr. Gaul stated that the vein had been opened up for a distance of 200 feet by the north and south drifts. All ore in these drifts averaging two feet in width assays one ounce or better per ton. Raises are now being driven in order to establish the amount of ore available above, while drifting both north and south will be continued.

KOOTENAY BELLE MINE CONTINUES SHIPPING

In the development at the Kootenay Belle Mine, Sheep Creek, B.C., the ore body in "B" vein, west, has been opened for twenty-five feet and values running from 48 oz. gold for three feet wide to 1.60 oz. gold for twenty-two inches. It is expected that this shoot, already opened on the surface, 300 feet deep, will extend for a minimum of fifty feet in length.

On "A" vein, west, ore has been found in quartzose schist, and followed for about twenty feet. It is now being highly mineralized. Last samples assayed 1.00 oz. and 5.00 oz. gold, respectively.

The last car of ore shipped to Trail Smelter returned 1.46 oz. gold. Another car was shipped on September 14.

ASKS SUPPORT FOR MINISTRY

Gaston Doumergue Demands Constitutional Reforms in France

PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP).—"Papa" Gaston Doumergue, in a public address last night, asked French citizens to aid his Government "by showing without ambiguity your will."

Lashing out violently at those who would devalue the franc, and demanding sweeping constitutional reform to make the French system of government similar to Great Britain's, the Premier said, nonetheless, he was "no dictator." He told France he was remaining in power only because of the present crisis.

The campaign to devalue the franc denounced as "Socialist and Communist." This movement, he declared, would "lead the franc to zero."

ASKS FOR FREEDOM

In his 5,000-word address—a sort of ministerial declaration before the return of Parliament—Doumergue demanded that the authoritative Government be free to carry on its work without fear of constant ministerial crises.

The constitutional reforms he demanded were:

1. To give the Premier a definite "constitutional status."
2. To give him, in case of defeat in the Chamber, the right to "appeal to the country" by dissolving the Chamber and calling new elections without getting the Senate's approval, except on rare occasions.
3. To give the Government alone the right to propose expenses.
4. To limit sharply activities of public employees against Government measures, such as Doumergue's economy decrees of last Spring, which enforced pay cuts.

MME. CURIE-JOLIOT HAS FORMULA FOR SYNTHETIC RADIUM

PARIS, Sept. 25 (CP-Havas).—A formula for synthetic radium will be officially announced by Mme. Irene Curie-Joliot, daughter of Mme. Pierre Curie, at the October scientific conference at Cambridge, England, it was reported here, today.

Mme. Curie-Joliot and her husband, Dr. Frederic Joliot, have been carrying out experiments in close secrecy for a number of months, it was added. Recently they were said to have been engaged in perfecting their discovery following early successes last July.

The "Petit Journal" said, today, that Mme. Curie-Joliot is being considered for the Nobel Prize, which her late mother won twice.

"When the judge ruled that Smith had to pay alimony, how did he feel about it?"

"Chagrined."

"And how did his wife feel about it?"

"She grinned."
